YANKS MAKE IT TWO STRAIGHT

CAPACITY CROWD AT RODEO OPENING; FAIR HAILED BIG SUCCESS

OFFICIALS CONGRATULATED BY VISITORS FROM EVERY PART OF THE STATE

By CHARLTON GUNTER
Daily Sun Staff

"Standing Room Only" was the sign in front of the huge rodeo arena of the Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show at the starting hour for the first performance Wednesday night, and there wasn't much standing room available as Central Texans packed and jammed the big structure to capacity, climaxing one of the greatest days in the history of this section of the state.

Records galore toppled Wednesday as the fair opened its first season in its new $40,000 plant, which drew high praise and many congratulations from visitors from all parts of the state and nation.

80 Rodeo Contestants

More than eighty contestants were listed in the four main events of the rodeo which insures plenty of competition for all concerned through the five performances, and gives no entry a chance to let down from top speed in any event or elimination is likely to result. The performers found the expansiveness of the arena trying Wednesday night, and the calf ropers in particular were inclined to agree that the big field gave the rodeo stock more than an even break with them.

Breakdown of the public address system slightly marred the opening show but fair officials announced that the defect would be repaired Thursday morning and the bleachers relocated in order to make the show more enjoyable for the spectators. They also announced all of the events would be speeded up, insuring a thrill-packed series of events for the remander of the week.

For an hour before the start of the rodeo Wednesday night cars lind Highway 31 solidly from its intersection with Highway 75 all the way to the entrance to the fair grounds, and members of the state highway patrol were hard pressed to keep traffic moving, and deserve much praise for preventing serious tangles and accidents.

Judging was completed in several sections of the exhibits during the opening day, and others were expectd to be completed Thursday.

Fair Grounds Jammed

From the time the inaugural parade was over Wednesday until far past midnight, the fair grounds were jammed with thousands of visitors, much to the elation of the board of directors of the fair association for it proved to them that this section of the state approved of the efforts they had made to provide a real plant.

The agricultural exhibits, the livestock [illegible] the midway, and the rodeo all had full attendance on the opening day, and veteran concession operators declared it indicated one of the record weeks of the fair season might be easily anticipated. Aside from the ro-

SPAIN DETERMINED CZECHOSLOVAKIA'S FATE TO BE AVOIDED

WILL FIGHT UNTIL COUNTRY IS FREED FROM FOREIGN INVASION

BARCELONA, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Julio Alvarez Del Vayo, Spanish government foreign minister, declared today that Government Spain was determined to avoid the fate of Czechoslovakia and to fight until the country is "free from foreign invasion."

In an address prepared for international broadcast Alvarez Del Vayo asserted:

"The terrible and monstrous experience of what has taken place in Europe within the last few days has increased the Spanish people's resolution not to permit Spain to be sacrificed to the policy of capitulation."

This policy of capitulation, he said, "menaces the existence of small nations and places European democracies in ever increasing danger of disappearing."

(Spanish government spokesmen in Paris said a plan to divide Spain into two nations, one a democracy and the other a dictatorship, had been broached to the government and rejected.

(The plan, which they indicated was brought up by "certain powers" at the four-power Munich accord which decided on partition of Czechoslovakia, was said to have been a part of international discussionns aimed at ending the Spanish war as part of a general European settlement.

(Italy and Great Britain are negotiating in an attempt to put into effect the Anglo-Italian Friedship Pact of April 16, which hinges on settlement of the Spanish question.)

CHAMBERLAIN GETS CONFIDENCE VOTE BY HOUSE OF COMMONS

MUNICH BARGAIN OF PRIME MINISTER GIVEN APPROVAL BY 366-144 VOTE

LONDON, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The house of commons today voted confidence in Prime Minister Chamberlain and approved his bargain of Munich for keeping Europe out of war. The final vote was 366 to 144.

The house, by a majority of two and a half to one, answered "yes" to Chamberlain's demand for approval of his historic conduct of British affairs during the recent crisis, which, he said, saved Czechoslovakia from destruction and Europe from armageddon.

Earlier a labor motion disapproving that policy as one which "led to the sacrifice of Czechoslovakia under the threat of armed force and the humiliation of our country" had been defeated by 369 to 150.

The house adjourned until Nov. 1 amid a tremendous ovation for Chamberlain.

The prime minister left the chamber smiling and waving acknowledgements.

The defeated labor motion was an amendment to the government motion for a vote of confidence.

The two votes followed four days of debate on the crisis and the four-power agreement which ended it, marked by vigorous government defense and bitter opposition assaults in which some members of the prime minister's own conservative party joined.

Winds Up Debate.

Chamberlain himself wound up the debate, declaring he was opposed to a general election, which, he said, tends to "magnify differences."

"Possibly we may want great efforts from the nation in months to come," he said. "If that be so, the smaller the differences the better."

Because the number of absen-

GERMANY CONTINUES TO TAKE OVER MORE CZECH TERRITORY

EUROPE IS STILL TRYING TO RECKON COST OF FAMED MUNICH AGREEMENT

By The Associated Press

The British House of Commons today approved the Munich peace agreement while Czechoslovakia learned of sacrifices it had imposed on her far surpassing her expectations.

Award of a fifth zone to Reichsfuehrer Hitler by the International Sudetenland Commission was described in Prague government circles as "cruel."

Word of it reached Czechoslovakia while German troops marched into the fourth Sudetenland zone alloted to Germany by the Munich bargain to save Europe's peace.

The Czechoslovak delegation to the League of Nations declared new demands for cession of Czechoslovak territory, drawn up by German members of the commission, included territory in cities and towns where the population is ethnically "purely Czech."

The House of Commons vote of 366 to 144, a majority of two and a half to one, answered "yes" to Chamberlain's demand for approval of his historic "peace in our time" solution to the Czechoslovak crisis.

New Czechoslovak wealth and territory became Germany's today as Europe still reckoned the cost of the Munich agreement.

BASEBALL MAD FANS THRONG WRIGLEY FIELD WEDNESDAY

A crowd estimated at approximately 44,000 crowded into Wrigley Field home of the Chicago Cubs, National league pennant winners for 1938, when the world series opened there Wednesday afternoon. The great majority were Cub partisans who saw their favorites go down to defeat before the great Yankee machine. The score was 3 to 1 and gave the Yankees a decided edge in the series.

MANY EDUCATIONAL EXHIBITS ATTRACT ATTENTION AT FAIR

DISPLAYS WOULD BE CREDIT AT EXHIBITION OF MUCH LARGER PROPORTIONS

By JAMES WILLIAMSON
Daily Sun Staff

Pageantry and popcorn, minstrels and sideshows, are just one of the many phases of a district fair. But long before the tent stakes have been driven and the calliope steamed up preparations have been under way for still another of the several angles that make a community show a success—the educational exhibits. Backstage in the schools and homes of the county, preparations are being made weeks before the fair gates open.

The Corsicana Livestock and Agriculture Show has not neglected the type of exhibit that answers the questions of "how," "who," "where" and "what." In the pecan floored exhibition hall is evidence of what has been going on in homes, schools, and businesses to make the fair a success.

Agriculture, art, home manufacturing, needlecraft, woodcraft, and horticulture are all represented in one or more of their various forms.

Display of Paintings.

A striking note of color is added to the entire exhibition by the display of paintings by local artists. Occupying the center north section of the hall, the group of oils, charcoals, and water colors are elaborately displayed. Officials of the exhibit say that it is the most representative collections of the works of local artists that has been assembled Still life oils dominate the display, but portraits and landscapes are also evident.

The floral charcoals in black and white are exhibited by Miss Katherine Beaton. Largest of the portraits exhibited is the oil of Mr. O. F. Allen painted by Anna M. Sandwich. Miss Beth Almond

CORSICANA POLICE SOLVE BURGLARIES THREE MEN IN JAIL

FIFTEEN PAIRS OF BOOTS AND SEVEN GUNS RECOVERED BY OFFICERS

Solution of two recent downtown burglaries and recovery of the greater portion of the loot was announced Thursday morning by Chief of Police Bruce Nutt. He added three men were in jail in connection with the thefts and another was sought.

Chief Nutt said investigating officers received a "break" on the robberies of the J. F. Taylor and Company Store and Simon Daniels Hardware store Wednesday During the afternoon, Chief of Detective M. S. Griffin and Detective Spencer visited several East Texas points and recovered fifteen pairs of cowboy boots stolen from Taylor and seven of the ten guns stolen from Daniels.

Three Corsicana residents were arrested in connection with the case, another is being sought, and charges against the distributor of the stolen goods are expected to be filed, Chief Nutt stated.

The boots were valued at approximately $275 and the guns around $400. All of the boots had been worn except one pair before they were recovered,

I. T. U. DELEGATES SEATED THURSDAY IN A. F. L. CONVENTION

WILLIAM GREEN MAKES SPECIAL PLEA FOR TIME IN ASSESSMENT PAYMENT

By T. F. COMAN

HOUSTON, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor's annual convention, adhering to a plea by President William Green not to throw out one of the oldest affiliates of the A. F of L., voted unanimously today to seat the delegates of the International Typographical Union.

The action served to keep the I.T.U. and its 80,000 members in the federation ranks on probation for another six months until the printers' union decides by referendum whether to approve or rejest the pleas of its officers to pay up a special assessment levied by the A. F. of L. a year ago to combat C. I. O.'s industrial union drive.

In a plea to the convention to seat the delegates, Green said:

"We are not so foolish in these days when a dual secession movement is facing us as to drive the International Typographical Union out of the A. F. of L.

"Those who are against us would be more than pleased if we said to the typographical union 'you cannot sit with us.'"

The federation leader said the newly elected officers of the I.T. U. including its president, Claude G. Baker, were hopeful the I. T. U. membership, in the next six months, would overthrow two previous decisions not to pay the spe-

CZECHS DECLARE GERMANS PLANNING TO TAKE MORE LAND

NOW DEMANDING AREAS IN WHICH GERMAN POPULATION ALMOST NIL

GENEVA, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The Czechoslovak delegation to the League of Nations announced today that the German members of the international Sudetenland commission at Berlin had drawn up new demands for the cession of territory beyond that contemplated by the accord of Munich.

A communique issued by the delegation said that the Germans were demanding that industrial and communications centers with a total Czech population of 815,000 either be occupied immediately by German troops or made subject to plebiscite.

A member of the delegation explained that the communique referred to the fifth zone delimited yesterday by the commission but added that the Prague government "saw nothing else to do but agree."

A second communique from the delegation said the fifth zone was "absolutely in contradiction with the letter and spirit of the Munich accord but corresponds entirely with the Godesberg map (which Hitler presented to Prime Minister Chamberlain Sept. 21.) and which world opinion unanimously opposed."

(In Berlin yesterday the international commission, bowing to German demands, decided to hand over to Germany a fifth ceded zone, to be occupied by Oct. 10, which took in half as much territory as all the first four zone of occupation.

(The Munich accord left delimitation of this fifth zone to the international commission, leaving to it to decide what were areas of "predominantly German population.")

The Czechoslovak communique said that included in territory which Germany demands for im-

FIFTH SUDETENLAND ZONE TURNED OVER HILTER THURSDAY

NEARLY TWENTY THOUSAND SQUARE MILES OF RICH TERRITORY ACQUIRED

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—(AP)—A choice new section of Cechoslovakia today lay open to occupation by Adolf Hitler's armies over the weekend and official sources indicated that Cechoslovak charges that the award exceeded the cessions contemplated at Munich would be ignored.

The new territory is the fifth zone of occupation, delimited last night by the International Sudeten commission in Berlin, bowing to the demands of Germany.

German officials described as "negligible" Czechoslovak charges from Geneva that the fifth zone went beyond the territorial transfers envisaged by the Munich four-power conference.

Charges from Prague that the terms of the commission's decision were "cruel" and that the extent of the new zone far surpassed Czechoslovak expectations were similarly received.

The commission's award was considered final.

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The International Sudetenland Commission handed Adolf Hitler a choice new section of Czechoslovakia today, half as large as the Munch four-power conference gave him outright.

It marked out a "fifth zone" which Hitler's armies could take over without formality as German troops marched into the fourth.

With the fifth zone there has fallen into Hitler's lap approximately 20,000 square miles of rich territory, including populous cities. Of this about three-forths has been assigned him outright by the Munich conference in the form of the four zones to be occupied by the German army between Oct. 1 and Oct. 8.

The other one-fourth, the ap-

TERMS OF INTERNATIONAL SUDETEN COMMISSION DECLARED 'CRUEL'

PRAGUE, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The government of Czechoslovakia learned today that sacrifices far surpassing its expectations were required of the dwindling republic in the cession of the fifth Sudetenland zone to Germany.

The exact extent of the additional territory Czechoslovakia is called on to deliver to Adolf Hitler was not yet known, but government circles said the terms of the decision of the International Sudetenland Commission at Berlin last night were "cruel."

Word of the commission's finding was brought to Prague by General Husarek of the Czechoslovak army, who had conferred with the commission at Berlin He delivered the terms to a session of the cabinet which lasted through the night until 6 a. m., with Premier Generai Jan Syrovy presiding.

The Prague government was told that Germany insists on immediate occupation of territory containing the Bohemian coal mines and cutting deeply between Bohemia and Moravia, severing

HOME RUNS DROVE DIZZY DEAN FROM MOUND THURSDAY

CROSETTI AND DIMAGGIO SWAT HOMERS; FINAL SCORE 6 TO 3

WRIGLEY FIELD, CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Booming homeruns by Frankie Crosetti and Joe Di Maggio in the last two innings, each with a mate on base, drove Dizzy Dean from the hill and gave the New York Yankees their second straight world series victory over the disheartened Chicago Cubs, 6 to 3, before a crowd of 42,108 this chilly day.

Although he had been lifted for a pinch-hitter just before Crosetti crashed what proved the winning homer in the eighth, Lefty Gomez was credited with the victory and a new record of winning six world series games without a defeat.

Dean, the losing hurler, had given the slugging Yanks only five hits up to the eighth inning and appeared to be coasting to certain triumph until Selkirk opened the fatal eighth with a single and after two forceouts Crosetti hit his drive in to the left bleachers. DiMaggio's blow in the ninth with Henrich aboard was an anti-climax, more or less.

WRIGLEY FIELD, Chicago, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Dizzy Dean, crippled but willing, went to the mound today in a desperate try to put the Chicago Cubs back into the world series against the rampant Yankees as some 40,000 shivering spectators, sensing a dramatic battle, watched. Opposed to the great star of yesterday was Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, out to become the first player in the big classic's history to win six straight series games without defeat.

Like yesterday, when the wind whistled and the Yankees opened with a brilliant offensive and defensive display to beat the Cubs, 3-1, it was blustery, chilly day. Fur coats made their first appearance of the season.

Gomez was heavily favored. The brisk wind, whipping across Lake Michigan toward home plate, enabling Lefty to hook his fast one across with more speed than ever. The Senor appeared in great shape as he warmed up, whereas Diz seemed restless and uneasy.

The Yankees, except for Gomez in the box, stood pat on their lineup but the Cubs made an outfield shift which found Frank Demaree in his old rightfield spot, Joe Marty in center and batting cleanup and Carl Reynolds shifting from center to left.

OCTOBER 22, 1939, OFFICIAL 'TEXAS DAY' AT NEW YORK FAIR; 103D HOUSTON INAUGURAL DATE

AUSTIN, Oct. 6—(AP)—October 22 next year, marking the 103rd anniversary of the inauguration of General Sam Houston as the first elected president of the Republic of Texas, today was officially designated as "Texas Day" at the New York World's Fair.

Col. Paul L. Wakefield, executive secretary of the Texas World's Fair commission, announced the date had been approved by Governor James V. Allred upon the invitation of Grover A. Whalen, President of the Fair.

Prominent Texans who will be honored guests on Texas Day at teh fair include Col. Andrew Jackson Houston, a son of Gen. Sam Houston; Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and chairman of the Texas Fair commission; Vice President John N. Barner, honorary chairman of the commisison; Karl Hoblitzelle of Dallas, commission vice chairman Senators Morris Sheppard and Tom Connally, commission members and representatives of the Sons and Daughters of the Republic of Texas organizatians.

Wakefield recalled Houston's inauguration marked the beginning of a new era in Texas history, symbolized by Houstons' presentation of his sword, laying aside the emblem of a soldier and taking up that of peace and statesmanship. When he became president, the pioneers turned to developmnt of th country and stablished a government for what was to become the Lone Star State.

The secretary said he was conferring with officials of the San Francisco Golden Gate Exposition for a designation of "Texas Day" at that celebration.

Wakefield said plans were progressing for full representation of Texas at both fairs.

INDUSTRY OF NATION ANXIOUS TO COOPERATE FOR RESTORING NATIONAL ECONOMIC RECOVERY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Administration officials, concerned with establishing harmony among business, labor and government, received assurance today that industry was eager to co-operate for economic recovery.

Charles M. Hook, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, said in a statement that there would be "no rattling of any industrial saber," so far as the manufacturers were concerned. "With encouragement from leaders in public life," he added, "business optimism would rise rapidly."

At Hyde Park this week President Roosevelt was represented as believing that government, business and labor should compose their difference by substituting peaceful negotiation for "name-calling" and "saber-rattling."

Commenting on the president's attitude, Hook said the manufacturers "are extremely eager for a furthering of a more cooperative attitude among leaders of Government, labor, industry, agriculture and other groups in order to help a business recovery get under way."

In other quarters, reaction to the president's view was mixed.

John D. M. Hamilton, republican national chairman, blamed "name-calling" by the Roosevelt administration for the business slump beginning last fall.

The statement of President Roosevelt's views at Hyde Park included labor's internal strife among the sore spots that might be healed by peaceful discussion.

Developments on labor's warring fronts yesterday indicated, however, that peace was farther away than ever before.

SINAI, HOME OF MONOTHEISM, VERSUS SOME IDOL TEMPLES*

A Man's Size Is Measured by the Magnitude of His Religious Conceptions—What a Clear Idea of God's Sovereignty Would Do to These Muddled Times.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Central on the wall of the living room of my home hangs a large colored photograph of mount Sinai. It is both an ornament and a monition. It symbolizes the conviction that our household regards the Mountain of the Law, and its meanings, as a foundation of the good life. Incidentally, the picture makes clear that the southern end of the mountain is like a great pulpit, from which Moses could address the whole company of Israel, spread out before him on the wide level plain of Wady Raha. The place confirms the story, as is usual with Bible geography.

I contrast the stern dignity of that outdoor place of worship with the hundreds of heathen temples I have visited all over the Orient. In some of these, notably in China and Japan, I have seen as many as a thousand idols of gods and goddesses crowded into one musty room. Often the idols had offerings before them; when I was first in Japan it was rather the vogue to put flimsy Western feminine headgear on the stone of images of Buddha—a spectacle that did not conduct to reverence.

Many Gods, or One

Up to the time of the revelation to the Jews, all peoples worshipped many gods. In India today there are more than a million different deities. Greece and Rhome had their many idols. Polythelsm is the oldest fashion in religion. It was a distinct step upward in human thinking for the mind to conceive of the one Supreme Deity—a step not easy for the mob of ex-slaves who made up the Israelite nation. Memories of Egypt, with its countless gods, were still strong within them.

Therefore the pre-eminence given to the first four commandments, handed down on Sinai. Jehovah asserted His throne rights. He alone is the Creator and Ruler of the universe; and He will not share His sovereignty with the creatoins of men's hands and minds. A sense of the greatness of God is the most uplifting and stabilizing force that can come into a human life. More effective than all of our bewildering modern schemes of social readjustment would be a widespread quickening of the consciousness of the nature and authority of the Supreme Being. A universal devotion to His will would make over the world in a generation.

Questionnaire About God.

Our day's mood of mind-worship, which makes man big and God little, has frequently undertaken to reppraise and recast the Decalogue. A few years ago a questionnaire was submitted to some Columbia University students, asking them to grade the Ten Commandments according to their own ideas.

Nearly all of these 'cocksure fledglings put 'Thou shalt not kill" into first place; a reflection of the prevailing belief in "safety first." And most of them subordinated to lowest place, or discarded, the first four Commandments having to do with man's attitude toward God. A clearer example of the shallow thinking of our times could scarcely be found. For the central truth, which validates all the later Words, is that there is a God, Who is Supreme Authority, and Who holds many accountable for his actions. Take God out of the Decalogue and it is as impotent as is the Code of Hammurabi today. The might and majesty and mercy of God are the foundation and the hope of civilization. Reverence toward Him is an essential antecedent of righteousness. Our wandering world must return to Sinai if it is ever to attain order and stability and good conduct. The current strife between Communism and Fascism and democracy will be ended only when society stands again at the foot of Mt. Sinai and Mt. Calvary, and God's law is operative in international relations, in politics, in business, in industry, and in all social life. We are getting hold of truth by the handle when we accept, and live by the utter supremacy of God.

Some Lesser Goods

Because our minds are small, we easily turn from the general to the particular. Every life is tempted to put some dear thing ahead of God. It may be a child, a wife or a husband. It may be an ambition or a possession; money, social position, personal comfort, or a particular set of prejudices.

In the religious life of today there is a discernible tendency to exalt forms of worship and ecclesiastical organization into first place. Liturgies, orders, church ornaments and usages occupy undue prominence. There are many who unconsciously put the Church of Christ ahead of the Christ of the Church.

These all belong to the company of Israelites who caused Aaron to make a golden calf that they could see and touch in worship. Jehovah and His servant Moses seemed too remote amidst the thunders of the great Mount of the Laws. So they elected the favorite Egyptian idol, the bull, to be their near-at-hand deity. Visitors to Sakkara will recall the magnificence of the tribute of old Egypt to Aphis, the bull idol.

Slavery or Liberty.

Many have missed the vastness of our heritage, which is the truth that God, the All-Powerful, is as Jesus said, a Spirit, to be worshipped in spirit and in truth. He is not a petty tyrant, particular about non-essential practices. It surely matters little to Him whether His children wear Quaker gray or the most beautiful creations of the modiste; whether they use hooks and eyes or buttons; whether the preacher's collar buttons in the front or back. Augustine, long centuries ago, hit off this truth in a happy phrase —"Love God, and do as you please."

When God is given his primary place in a human life, and His will is accepted as its unquestioned law, then that person escapes from the tyranny of all lesser idolatries and allegiances. He is free within the whole compass of the Divine will. The fear that shadows the lives of pagan idolatries disappears. "His service is perfect freedom." Then spiritual peace, which is antecedent to all social peace, comes to dominate the heart. All that is good in life may be anticipated by the one who has no gods before Jehovah.

ITALIAN CONSULAR OFFICIALS SPREAD PROPAGANDA HERE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Girolamo Valenti, chairman of the Italian Anti-Fascist committee, declared today "Italian consular officials and secret fascist agents are spreading fascist propaganda throughout the ranks of some 200 Italian-American organizations in the United States."

Valenti, a slight dark-haired New Yorker with a decided Italian accent, told the Dies committee on Un-American activities threats and other devices were being used to bring pressure on American-Italians to gain information about them or to make them conform to fascist ideas.

He said there was in this country "a branch of the dreaded Italian government secret police, known as the Ovra," which he testified was similar to secret police of Nazi Germany.

"This," he said, "is a spy organization which calls at the homes of American citizens of Italian descent and attempts to frighten them whenever they have participated in activities which do not conform to fascist government policy."

Valenti asserted "Italian consular officials are addressing scores of semi-public gatherings and closed meetings in which they deliver speeches of pure fascist propaganda, seeking to undermine the democratic form of government."

"The participation of Italian consuls is a matter of common knowledge among the American-Italians," Valenti testified.

"Among those who have repeatedly taken part in fascist affairs in their respective areas are the following:

"Consul General Vecchiotti, New York City.

"Consul General P. Peravan, Philadelphia, Pa.

"Consul P. Decicco, New Haven, Conn.

"Consul Yannelli, Johnstown, Pa.

"While enjoying diplomatic immunity," the witness continued, "these Italian consular officials are exerting influence over American citizens of Italian descent with the view of gaining more power and prestige for their native government."

CHAMBERS CREEK BRIDGE ACCEPTED BY STATE MONDAY

THROUGH TRAFFIC CORSICANA TO PALESTINE INAUGURATED

Chambers creek bridge on Highway 22, southeast of Eureka, was formally accepted on behalf of the state highway department Monday aftednoon by J. G. Rollins, Dallas, division highway engineer.

The highway east is now open, officials have announced, and a considerable volume of traffic is now being reported daily on this shorter route between Corsicana and Palestine and other East Texas points.

The route straight through gives a reduction of about 20 miles between Corsicana and Palestine over the former route used via Fairfield. In addition to the shorter distance, much less traffic is encountered.

The maintenance department is putting a clay treatment on the shallow fill in the Trinity river bottom at the present time and is sodding the shoulders.

The route straight through, however, is not an all-weather road and cannot be used when the Trinity river is overflowing.

This bridge completion also gives Corsicana a short cut to the Cayuga oil fields and also opens a direct route into Northeastern Freestone county, as well as the southwest and northwest portions of Henderson and Freestone counties.

The bridge cost approximately $125,000. A new bridge spanning the Trinity river was erected several years ago by the state and federal highway departments.

Feeder Road.

Work is reported one-third completed on the feeder type road extending from Highway 31 at Kerens to intersect Highway 22 southwest of the new Chambers creek bridge. A portion of this road was constructed several years ago as a WPA relief project and this year is being finished by the highway department.

Highway 22 northwest to Hillsboro has been finished and is open to traffic, affording the public a short cut to many highways without going to Waco or Dallas or Fort Worth.

Considerable improvement is being done on Highway 31 between Ward Bridge crossing and the Hill-Navarro county line between Dawson and Hubbard. A treatment of the shoulders along the seven mile strip of 9-foot pavement at Pursley is being given while the oiled surface from Parishville west is being oiled and graveled again preparatory to the winter season. A new bridge was erected at the Ward Bridge crossing earlier in the year, a two-way affair, replacing the old one-way structure.

Considerable work has been done by the maintenance department on highways traversing Navarro county this summer as it the general custom of the highway commission preparing for the winter when repairs and replacements on a large scale is genrally prevented by weather conditions.

Subsidy Checks.

A total of 119 susidy cheks were received Tuesday morning at the office of H. C. Robinson, county agent, amounting to $14,819.65.

FIGHT OVER GREEN ESTATE TAXES HAS COME NEAR END

AUSTIN, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The legal battle among four states over the right to tax the estate of Col. E. R. Green is nearing an end, Llewellyn Duke, assistant attorney general of Texas, said today.

Texas is seeking to collect taxes of aproximately $5,000,000 on the $41,000,000 estate, while New York, Massachusetts and Florida have similar claims. The issue hinges on the legal residence of Col. Green.

Duke said Texas had filed exhibits and briefs with the special master of the United States supreme court appointed to receive testimony and now is awaiting the master's report, which is expected sometimes this month.

"The master will tell the court who is entitled to the money," Duke said. "Then it will be up to the disappointed parties to file exceptions, and thereafter will come the arguments."

He expressed opinion the supreme court would render final decision early next year.

SCRAPPING HILL COUNTIANS READY FOR CORSICANANS

TIGERS EXPERIENCED TOUGH SCRIMMAGE SESSIONS ON TUESDAY AFTERNOON

By JIMMIE PAGE
Hillsboro Mirror Sports Writr.

HILLSBORO, Oct. 5.—Coach Holly McLemore and Frank James' Hillsboro High Eagles will sweep down on Corsicana's Tiger Field this week with the devastation of a cyclone, as the 1938 District 11 title hunt gets well underway. But the main point about this Eagle cyclone is the probable fact—the Hillsboro Eagles will not sweep down on Tiger Field with enough force to soar to victory heights over the Tigers and take a stall in favorite division of the 1938 District 11 barn.

Tigers of Old.

Coming back with the fury of former years—years when powerful Bengal machines mowed a victory trail with the power of a steam roller—the Corsicana Tigers are, seemingly, headed for loftly heights in the district race. Possibly, the lofty heights of former years when Price, McNutt, Wilson, Stamps, Stewart and other pigskin heroes were flinging the Blue and Gold of Corsicana afar. If such info is on the level, it looks like Tiger year, not to mention this week's district headliner between the Eagles of Hillsboro High and the Corsicana Tigers.

Casting the spotlight back toward the Eagle-Tiger headliner, its interesting to note developments, although it may be noted at this stage of this masterpiece that the Hillsboro Eagles will have to unleash a "miracle" whip if they intend to subdue the fine tutored Piercemen. In brief, the Hillsboro aggregation is a neat and dangerous outfit to tinker with, but the Eagles look "far" from a championship unit, although they have displayed early season class and some (note the some) district title signs. No, we aren't trying to pull the (old-old) Jinx Tucker gag, but the Eagles jus' don't seem to have what it takes to defeat the Tigers Friday evening in the Tiger's own backyard. However, anything is apt to happen in this c-r-a-z-y game of football, so don't hold us to task should the Eagles upset the dope cart and win their district lid-blaster. Anyway, its due to be a thrilling grid spectacle, but dont' let anyone tell you that the Eagles rate pre-game tops. It jus' ain't in the book.

Veteran Templeton.

The lone survivor of the 1936 Eagle title crew is Jerry Templeton, 162-pound backfield ace, who is due to bear the brunt of the Hillsboro attack as he holds down a quarterback post. At his best, Templeton is, without question, one of the greatest schoolboy backs on Texas soil. But that, folks, is the joke. Jerry plays in spots, at least that is the way in which he has performed throughout his schoolboy career up to date. Templeton is a great defensive genius, a neat field general, a powerhouse runner, a fair punter, a fine extra point artist and a classy passer. With Templeton having a good night, the Tigers will be in for a busy evening. In fact, too busy.

While Templeton is due to Sparkplug the Eagles along the district trail, jus' keep an eye on Powerhouse Switzer Lanford, Joseph Ramirez, Alvin Carmichael, Speed Payne and Cotton Top Landrum. Incidentally, all of these gridders are no slouches when it comes to backfield duty. Ecpecially this Switzer Lanford and Alvin Carmichael. The latter is an outstanding defensive performer.

Eagle Forward Wall.

While this backfield troupe is due to give the Tigers plenty to think about, let's take a look at the line. To start with, there's Jake Hill at center. Hill lacks much in the weight department, but his line backing brilliance and all around snapperback duties place him at a job which should be well taken care of. The caretaker, Mr. Hill himself. Aside from the pivot slot, we find Big Bill Davidson and Dub Majors at guards, 202-pound Clayton Beavers and Bull Reese at tackles, and Kendricks and Jackson at ends. This crew of forward wallers is capable of playing a colorful brand of football and chances are that they will flash neat form in Tigertown Friday evening, despite the fact that they have the under dog's chair in their possession.

Once in a Blue Moon.

Only once in a blue moon do the Eagles bob up with reserve strength, but there's capable bench fireworks at Eagleland this year. Of course, the Eagle reserves aren't the big and husky type of reserves that Paul Tyson annually bobs up with, nor are they so plentiful. But at least there's one consolation. The Eagles can send in a bench warmer who won't wreck the team. Such has not been the case at Eagleland in the past.

Although few Eagle fans expect a victory, a large following of feathered flock supporters will be on hand for the kick-off Friday evening, hoping to see the Eagles give the Tigers more than scare one. As stated heretofore, the Eagles will give the Corsicana Tigers one more battle, but the victory nod just isn't in the dope bucket.

Tigers Scrimmaged.

Corsicana Bengals scrimmaged long Tuesday afternoon at Tiger Field as they prepared for the Eagles' invasion. The Tigers are not taking the game lightly, neither are the mentors.

The final touch scrimmage session is slated Wednesday afternoon with light signal drills for Thursday afternoon.

Domice Neal, handicapped with an injured leg for the past couple of weeks, appears fully recovered and ready to go at the fullback. Gulic Robinson, another slashing fullback with plenty of drive and scrap to make up the difference in weight, is not in the best of shape as a result of the Mexia fracas, but he can go in if necessary. Crews and Spencer are prancing pretty lively while Stewart will bark signals as usual. Nutt and Ellington at ends, Andrews and Johnston at tackles, Paschall and Weatherby at guards and Prewitt at center are expected to be the starters Friday evening, although some of the other boys are making it interesting for starting posts.

SUPREME COURT OF TEXAS HAS UPHELD DENTAL ADS LAW

JUDGMENT OF SAN ANTONIO COURT REFUSING TO ENJOIN LAW UPHELD

AUSTIN, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The supreme court today in effect upheld a law passed by the 45th legislature regulating dental advertising.

In a case from San Antonio the supreme court refused petition for writ of error by G. W. Sherman and others who had attacked constitutionality of the law.

The action allowed the judgment of San Antonio district and appeals courts, refusing an injunction against enforcement of the law, to stand.

Others who attacked the law, in addition to Sherman, were O. K. and J. E. Mayo, L. M. Hamman and J. V. Robinson.

The plaintiffs claimed the law unconstitutional for the following reasons:

It conflicted with the constitutional guarantee of freedom of speech and press.

It took property without due process of law.

It vested judicial power in an administrative board.

It gave unreasonable and arbitrary authority to a board to fix the place of hearing on revocation of licenses.

It was class legislation.

Subject to Regulation

The opinion of the court of civil appeals replied that those engaged in the profession of dentistry, as well as in medicine and surgery and related vocations, were subject to legislative regulation under police powers granted by the constitution to protect the public welfare.

It asserted the license to practice dentistry was a property right but not a vested right and might be revoked for good cause.

Other points made in the opinion were:

That similar laws had been upheld in every state where they had been questioned.

That the authority of the legislature to regulate the character of advertising of professional services, equipment and facilities by practicing dentists was generally recognied.

That the power did not necessarily rest on the theory such advertising must be false or harmful within itself in every case.

That the law was not class legislation because the act applied to all practicing dentist alike.

That the law did not bear on freedom of the press because the press could continue to publish what it saw fit, and the act should not be nullified because "conjectural" revenue of the press might be cut off.

The next step in the litigation presumably will be a motion for re-hearing.

In refusing another application for error the high tribunal left unaltered a judgment of the Beaumont court of civil appeals which had reversed and remanded a trial court judgment awarding $11,755 damages to Ellis Wier for personal injuries received when he jumped from a hotel window during a fire in a hostelry operated in Longview by the Texas Hotel company.

CITY THREATENED BY SERIOUS WATER SHORTAGE THURSDAY

Corsicana was threatened by a serious water shortage for several hours Thursday morning when a break occurred in the main supply line to the pump station at Lake Halbert.

A large crew of workmen were put on the trouble immediately and at least temporary repairs were made in a few hours. Permanent repairs will be made as soon as possible.

Meanwhile city officials are awaiting federal inspection of a PWA application for funds to provide an additional line to the lake and other improvements to the water system.

SOVIET RUSSIA IS NOT CONSIDERED AN ALLY OF FRANCE NOW

MOSCOW, Oct. 5.—(AP)—A prediction of sharp revival of communist international activity, especially in France, was made today by some foreign observers following a cooling of Soviet-French relations.

The semi-official newspaper Le Journal De Moscou, often the mirror of foreign office views, said emphatically that, as a result of the four-power Munich agreement, France had lost all her European allies but England and demanded, "Who can rely on England?"

"Isolation is the price France will pay for Munich, where she received 'not even a scrap of paper' but only an oral promise from Adolf Hitler," the paper asserted.

It added: "After the capitulation of Munich (where France, Italy and Great Britain reached an accord Sept. 30, granting Chancellor Hitler Sudeten German areas of Czechoslovakia, a French ally) who will believe again the word of France? Who will remain her ally?

"Rumania or Yugoslavia (with Czechoslovakia, French allies in the Little Entente) will not hesitate any longer to swing over to the side of German fascism.

"And as for Poland—Poland certainly is lost to France."

The Journal did not state specifically that Moscow intended to cancel the French-Soviet pact of May, 1935, but asked, "What is it worth now that France has torn up its treaty of alliance with Czechoslovakia?"

Teague Lions Will Have Off-Week Prior Contest With Mart

TEAGUE, Oct. 5.—(Spl.)—With an open date facing them this week, the Teague Lions are looking two weeks ahead, to the game here against the Mart Panthers of Coach Harry Chambless on Oct. 14. The Panthers appear a bit weaker this fall than usual, having already dropped two games to members of the Teague district, State Home and Groesbeck, but the locals are taking nothing for granted.

Teague had its hands full last week with a newcomer to Freestone county football, the Fairfield Eagles. D. Emmons skirted Teague's right end for 44 yards, and that score loomed larger and larger as the game drew along toward the close. Early in the fourth quarter a drive was climaxed by Long's 19 yard run, and then came the play that provided the margin of victory. McSpadden's try from placement was blocked, but Captain Bowers took the ball and dashed around and through the amazed Eagles for the winning point, the game ending 7-6.

Ennis Lions moved to the position of favorite, along with Groesbeck's Goats to take the title with a win over the Hillsboro Eagles. Groesbeck took the measure of Mart, 19-0, to run their string to three wins. Ennis dropepd their opening game, against Corsicana Tigers. State Home appears running along close to the two named favorites, with only a loss to Nacogdoches against them, as against wins over Coolidge and Mart. IOOF Home seems next, with a tie with Waxahachie and a win over Itasca on the record. Teague and Ferris loom as battlers for the cellar position. Teague lost to Marlin and Rusk and barely edged out Fairfield; Ferris lost to Lancaster and to Kaufman by wide margins.

The first district tilt will be played in Ennis Friday night of this week, between the IOOF Lynx and the Ennis Lions.

OIL MEN URGED TO ATTEND CONVENTION IN SAN ANTONIO

San Antonio will be the Texas oil industry's "health resort" on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 27 and 28, when oil operators from every section of the state will have their economic ills diagnosed by specialists heading the program of the big annual conventon of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, according to H. R. Stroube, the Asociation's vice president for East Central Texas.

"The health of the Texas oil industry is of vital importance to everyone living in Texas today" said Mr. Stroube, "and it is through the stimulus of these annual conventions that this great state industry may collectively work out the solution of its problems, with resulting benefit to the people of Texas as well as the oil industry itself."

Mr. Stroube urged every oil operator in Corsicana and vicinity to make it a duty this year to attend the oil men's reunion in San Antonio. He said the business program includes serious discussion of numerous operating problems now facing the industry, such as reduced production schedules which are greatly increasing unit operating costs.

"While the serious-sided questions before the Texas oil operator will play an important part in this year's convention program" said Mr. Stroube, "we have been assured by the San Antonio entertainment committee that fun and frivolity will be administered in pleasant doses by the greatest aggregation of gloom-chasing specialists this side of Broadway."

"To miss this year's convention of Texas oil men in San Antonio is to miss a real opportunity to take an active part in collective efforts of the industry to solev its many current problems," he added.

AMERICAN LEAGUERS TAKE FIRST GAME BY THREE-ONE SCORE

WRIGLEY FIELD JAMMED TO CAPACITY FOR OPENER OF BASEBALL CLASSIC

WRIGLEY FIELD, Chicago, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Turning on their famed batting power for 12 hits against Bill Lee and Jack Russell, the World Champion New York Yankees defeated the Chicago Cubs, 3 to 1, in the opening game of the World Series here today before 44,000 disappointed fans.

Lee, backbone of the Chicago hurling staff, was combed for 11 hits by the Manhattan sluggers before he retired for a pinch-hitter in the eighth. Red Ruffing held the Cubs to nine hits, including a triple by Manager Gabby Hartnett, and was never in serious danger.

Ruffing and Joe DiMaggio alone of the Yankee line-up failed to get in on the clubbing. Bill Dickey, tall catcher, was the biggest explosion with four singles. He scored what proved the winning run in the second inning and drove across Tommy Henrich with the final run of the game in the sixth.

PLAY BY PLAY

By SID FEDER

WRIGLEY FIELD, Chicago, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Cheered on by a near-capacity crowd of more than 40,000, the New York Yankees and Chicago Cubs met today in the first game of the 1938 world series.

The weather was cool with the sky somewhat overcast, although the sun broke through intermittently. A brisk wind blew across the diamond, from the left field corner.

Both managers stood pat on their previously announced pitching selections and lineups. Louisiana Bill Lee, 22-game winner and hero of the Cubs' last-month drive to the National league pennant, started for Chicago. Big Charley (Red) Ruffing, also a right-hander, who paced the Yanks' pitching staff to the American league championship, hurled for New York.

Augie Galan's leg injury, suffered a week ago, forced Manager Hartnett to use the outfield with which the Cubs wound up the season. This shifted Frank Demaree from right to cover Galan's left field position and brought the weak hitting Paul Cavarretta into right field.

The umpires and captains of both teams went into a huddle for the usual pre-game conference. The crowd stood as the band played the Star Spangled Banner, and the game got under way.

..The starting lineups

New York (A)—Crosetti, ss; Rolfe, : Henrich, lf; DiMaggio, cf; Gehrig, 1b; Dickey, c; Selkirk, lf; Gordon, 2b; Ruffing,, p.

Chicago (N)—Hack, 3b; Herman, 2b; Demaree, lf; Cavarretta, rf; Reynolds, cf; Hartnett, c; Collins, 1b; Jurgess, ss; Lee, p.

Umpires—Moran (NL) at the plate; Kolls (AL) at first; Sears, (NL) at second; Hubbard (AL) at third.

First Inning

Yankees — Crosetti worked the count to three and two and then struck out. Rolfe sent a bounder off first base and Collins threw to Lee to put him out. Heinrich struck out. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Cubs—Hack fouled several times, then singled sharply to left center. Hack then was out stealing, Dickey to Crosetti. Crosetti threw out Herman. Demaree fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Second Inning

Hack took DiMaggio's grounder near third base and threw him out. Gehrig walked on four pitches. Dickey slashed a single into right field and when Cavarretta tried to catch Gehrig with a throw to third Dickey went to second, Gehrig making third easily. Herman fumbled Selkirk's easy bounder, Gehrig scoring, Dickey going to third and the batter reaching first. Gordon's hard roller went through Hack and into left field for a single scoring Dickey and sending Selkirk to second. Ruffing grounded to Jurges who threw to Herman forcing Gordon, and Herman's throw to Collins retired Ruffing for a double play. Two runs, two hits, one error, one left.

Cubs—Gehrig took Cavarretta's grounder back of first base and stepped on the bag to retire him. Gordon caught Reynolds' high fly. Hartnett fouled to Dickey. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Third Inning

Yankees—Crosetti flied to Reynolds in center. Rolfe sent a long fly to Demaree. Henrich singled over first. Collins taking the ball several yards back of the bag but having no chance to make a play. Henrich was caught stealing, Hartnett to Herman. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Cubs—Collins singled. Jurges fanned. Dickey took Lee's weak roller five feet in front of the plate and threw him out, Collins advancing to second. Hack singled to right scoring Collins, and went to second on the throw-in to the plate. Herman's liner bounced off Rolfe's glove for a single but when Hack tried to score on the play Crosetti, backing up third, recovered the ball and threw him out at the plate. One run, three hits, no errors, one left.

Fourth Inning

Yankees—Jurges made a fine stop of DiMaggio's grounder and threw him out. Gehrig sent a long single to right but was out when he tried to stretch it to a double. Dickey singled over second. Selkirk popped to Hack. No runs, two hits, no errors, one left.

Cubs—When Demaree tried to dodge a pitch the ball hit his bat and bounded to Ruffing who threw him out. Cavarretta struck out. Reynolds popped to Gehrig. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Fifth Inning

Yankees—Gordon doubled to the left field corner. Ruffing sacrificed, Hartnett to Collins. Crosetti struck out. Herman threw out Rolfe. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Cubs—The clouds were heavy overhead as the Cubs came to bat in the fifth. Hartnett fanned. Dickey dropped the third strike and had to throw the Cub manager out at first. Gordon made a sensational stop of Collins' grounder with his back to the plate and threw him out. Jurges struck out. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Sixth Inning

Yankees—Henrich doubled off the wall in right. DiMaggio flied to Cavarretta in right, Henrich holding second. Gehrig struck out. Dickey's high fly fell safely in left for a single, Henrich scoring. Selkirk grounded to Lee and then beat the hit-out for a single, just reaching the bag in front of Lee's throw. Collins protested. Dickey went to second on the play. Gordon fanned. One run, three hits, no errors, two left.

Cubs—Lee flied to DiMaggio in deep center. Hack beat out a bounder down the third base line for a single. Herman rolled to Rolfe who threw to Gordon forcing Hack but Herman was safe at first. Demaree popped to Crosetti. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Seventh Inning

Yankees—Ruffing flied to Demaree in left center. Crosetti was hit on the left leg by a pitched ball and went to first. On the hit and run, Rolfe singled sending Crosetti to third. Jack Russell began to warm up in the Cub bullpen. So did Larry French, a left-hander. Collins made a beautiful stab of Henrich's liner and stepped on first to retire Rolfe who was off the bag. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Cubs—Cavarretta lined a single to center. Murphy began to warm up in the Yankee bullpen. Reynolds bounced into a double play, Crosetti to Gehrig. Crosetti took the ball just off second stepped on the bag and easily retired the batter at first. Hartnett tripled o the right field corner. Henrich fell in a desperae lunge at the ball and the big Cub manager galloped to third. Crosetti made a fine stop of Collins' bouncer and threw him out. No runs, two hits, no errors, one left.

Eighth Inning

Yankees—Jurges threw out DiMaggio on a nice play. Gehrig was called out on strikes on a three and two pitch. He thought he had walked and started for first and when Moran called to him that he was out he raced back to the plate and registered a vigorous protest. Several Yankees also gathered at the plate. Gehrig protested so vigorously and seemed about to rush at Moran that his mates pushed him back toward the Yankee dugout. Coach Art Fletcher finally quieted the first baseman and the crowd booed. Dickey singled to right center. Dickey stole second, Hartnett's throw drawing Jurges wide of the bag. Selkirk flied to Reynolds in center. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Cubs—Before the Cubs came to bat it was announced that the argument on Gehrig's strikeout in the first half of the inning had arisen over a foul tip for a third strike which Hartnett caught. Gehrig apparently let his bat down as the pitch came toward the plate and it nicked the bat. Gehrig did not know this, but the umpire called it that way. Jurges singled to right. O'Dea, the Cubs' reserve catcher, batted for Lee. He sent a roller to Crosetti who threw to Gordon forcing Jurges. O'Dea beat Gordon's attempt at a double play and was safe at first on the fielder's choice. Hack rolled into a double play, Gordon to Crosetti to Gehrig. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Ninth Inning

Yankees—Old Jack Russell, veteran right-hander, went in to pitch for the Cubs. Gordon sent a high fly to Reynolds in center. As Ruffing came to bat the crowd gave him a round of applause. Ruffing was thrown out by Herman. Crosetti's fly fell just inside the right field foul line for a double as Collins, Herman and Cavarretta all raced after it. Herman threw out Rolfe. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Cubs—DiMaggio raced over to deep left center to take Herman's fly. Demaree flied to Selkirk near the left foul line. Cavarretta lined a single to right and went to second when Henrich fumbled the ball for an error. Reynolds popped to Gordon. No runs, one hit, one error, one left.

SEA OF HUMANITY CROWDED LINE OF MARCH WEDNESDAY

COWBOYS, GIRLS, BANDS, DECORATED FLOATS THRILL THOUSANDS SPECTATORS

By CHARLTON GUNTER
Daily Sun Staff.

One of the longest and most varied parades in the history of Navarro county, featured by the presence of literally hundreds of mounted entries, featured the formal opening of the first season of the Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show in its new permanent home a short distance east of Corsicana.

The parade actually started ahead of time, believe it or not, and required well over thirty minutes to pass the Daily Sun office, setting a record for all time in the county, not even excepting the Armistice celebration of 1918 or the celebration over the re-opening of the banks in the city of 1933.

Streets Packed With People.

Early Wednesday morning, cars filled with people fro mall parts of Central Texas began the treck into Corsicana to secure places of vantage to view the spectacular inaugural procession. For hours before the parade started, parking space along the line of march was at a premium and still more people came. Sidewalks were packed with people as well as cars along the streets, more were parked in windows and other elevated positions—Corsicana was really fair-minded.

About 9:45 several strokes on the fire bell notified members of local National Guard companies to stop all cross traffic, and be ready for the long procession. And within a few minutes, here it came.

Much of the credit for the success of the procession should go to Major John J. Garner, commanding officer of the Second Battalion of the 132nd Field Artillery, Texas National Guard, general chairman of the parade, and his corps of aides. The many units performed with clockwork precision, and greatly added to the pleasure of the spectators.

Visiting Bands.

Corsicana was also host for the day to two visiting ands, including the 80-piece Tyler High school units, and the 60-piece Hillsboro High school band, and these colorful units added much enjoyment to the occasion.

The procession was headed by a motorcycle escort composed of city officers and Texas highway patrolmen, followed by Fred M Allison, first vice president of the fair association, and Miss Mary John Davis, Corsicana sponsor, mounted on immaculately groomed horses.

Following in quick succession in automobiles were officials of the fair association, members of the city commission, and of the commissioners' court. These in turn were followed by a car containing the Dawson city officials.

Preceded by the national and state emblems, members of the Corsicana High school band and pep squad headed the second division of the procession, followed immediately by some of the members of the football team.

Decorated Entries.

Next in order came the decorated entries of various grade and county schools. Sam Houston school presented a reproduction of the famous Texas leader; Austin school was represented by a "Fire Prevention" float; Crockett school presented an aggregation of Mother Goose characters; William B. Travis school was represented by a "Friendship" float; and Lee school presented a striking view of school life, including football activities and books representing the three "R's" They, in turn, were followed by a busload of Emhouse school students who entertained the crowds with many of the well-known Western songs, such as "Home on the Range" and others.

Next came the junior high safety patrol, one of the pioneers in this type of work in Central Texas, resplendent in their natty blue uniforms. They were followed immediately by the State Home pep squad in their green and white and the State Home band in their neat brown regalia.

The decorated float division followed immediately, led by a three-car entry by the Little Nursery with the main unit consisting of a beautiful replica of a well-landscaped home with little Miss Tressa Labban as an Indian maiden supplying an added touch.

Next came the entries of the Corsicana Business and Professional Women's Club, bearing several school-age children and the president of the organization. Next in line were the Clowe Floral Company entry, that of the Gaillard dairy, and of the Derrick.

Members of the Tyler High school and, numbering some 80 pieces, repaid several visits of the Tiger band to the Rose Festival, by participating Wednesday in the fair inaugural, followed by a carload of representative Tyler citizens.

Other notale entries were those of the Camp Fire Girls, and the Magnolia Petroleum Company's double entry of a neat trailer of a winged horse mounted by several attractive Corsicana girls, and, in turn followed by Deen Allen's ark, 1914 vintage. Next in line were the entries of the Womens Christian Temperance Union, San-Oak Dairy, and the Navarro Steam Laundry.

Benefits of the new connecting link with the Hill county capital was presented next by the participation of the Hillsboro High school band.

Next came one of the largest units of the parade, the military, which included members of Headquarters Battery of Corsicana, Battery D of Corsicana, and Battery E from Kerens, in addition to the Second Battalion Headquarters unit from Italy.

A striking representation of the work of the American Red Cross was next presented by a decorated float graphically illustrating the many appeals which are cared for by this humanitarian organization.

The next section was composed of the Johnson-Wiggins Post No. 22, American Legion, which was led by a float asking "Remember?" and bearing the dates, 1938 and 1918, on which were presented a youth in an army uniform, and Post Commander J. H. "Dick" Bruner, one-armed World War veteran. Immediately behind came the Drum and Bugle Corps of the post, in new uniforms, re-organized especially to participate in the fair celebration Wednesday.

Next in line came another evidence of the manner in which the citizenry has co-operated on the fair enterprise, in the form of a fair enterprise in the form of a volunteer "cowboy" band led by Neal Owens, former Longhorn band drum major, and including many players who have been inactive in this line of endeavor many years.

Rodeo Performers.

Perhaps one of the most interesting sections in the entire parade was the mouted division, headed by Col. "California Frank" Hafley and his wife, Mamie Francis, and other rodeo performers and local equestrians. Immediately behind the leaders were presented the fifteen community sponsors to th Corsicana fair, with one Oklahoma delegate, Miss Guthrie, representing the '89ers of that city. Members of the Kerens city officialdom concluded this section.

Next came the "chuck wagon division" headed by the members of the visiting delegation of the Alabama-Coushattis from Polk county in wagons supplied by W. E. McKinney and others. Many freak sights and novelties were presented in this division, including one of a pet coon riding a burro, and countless others. These in turn were followed by some 200 to 300 mounted entries from all sections of Central Texas.

Bicycle Section.

A great section of Corsicana children mounted on decorated bicycles, made up the next section, augmented by some clowns from various sources.

Next came an old "Model T" trick car which gave rear seat occupants a neat thumping at intervals. Members of the C. C. C. string band in a truck came next, followed by many commercial entries which included the Velvet ice cream trucks, ancient vintage automobiles, a unique entry by Henry's Grocery, the Pan-American Night Club, Rainbow Ice Cream Parlor, the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce quartet and accompanist, W. E. Lee (in costume), McGolpin Grain, Willman Dairy, Allis-Chalmers and John Deere farm machinery, Whistler's Junk and Auto Parts, Nichols Dairy, Smith's Dairy, DeeLang Shows and negro band, Texas Power & Light Company, and Bowen Motor Coaches.

From comment heard immediately after the procession had passed, it was gathered that the parade was one of the most spectacular and well-arranged and directed processions ever to be presented in Corsicana and Navarro county, as well as being by far the longest.

Simultaneously with the conclusion of the parade, the gates to the fair ground were opened to the public for the first season in the new $40,000 permanent plant, and within a short time the grounds were crowded with thousands of interested visitors. Everything was ready and again Corsicana and Navarro residents realized another dream had come true—they had a fair—a real fair—and it was going good.

HOUSTON BANKERS HAVE HIGH PRAISE FOR LOCAL FAIR

Two prominent visitors to the Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show on the opening day were A. C. Williams, president, and R. D. Johnson, vice president of the Federal Land Bank of Houston, the largest institution of its kind in the South, with assets of over $275,000,000 and approximately 100,000 clients in its territory.

The bank officials came to Corcana for the express purpose of looking over the first annual exhibition of the recently organized show and they were loud in their praise of every department of the show, and admit that they got their money's worth in their visit. Mr. Williams was armed with a moving picture camera and took numreous pictures of the show in all its varied parts.

These pictures, Mr. Johnson stated, will be sent out over the country and shown free as an encouragement to the livestock and agricultural industry, especially among the Future Farmers clubs and Boys 4-H clubs of this state.

Both Mr. Williams and Mr. Johnson were enthusiastic over the fair and the magnificent location and plant, especially the fine rodeo arena.

HEAVIEST TOURIST TRAFFIC FROM OUT OF STATE CAME IN OVER ADVERTISED HIGHWAY

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Heaviest out-of-state tourist traffic the past summer moved through the Shamrock port over Highway 66, the highway department says.

The opinion was given this was because Highway 66 is a transcontinental east-west route which has had much advertising and is attracting a great flow of travellers from the north and east to New Mexico and California and vice versa.

In recognition of the importance of the new traffic artery, the department will keep its information booth at Shamrock, opened this year, in service throughout the winter.

The booths at El Paso, Wichita Falls, Laredo and Texarkana also will remain open throughout the winter months. Because of decline of seasonal traffic, eight at other border ports recently were closed.

Purpose of the booths is twofold: To give information on Texas to out-of-state visitors and to give Texans information on other states. The last season they were manned largely with college students employed temporarily.

The tourist from outside Texas is caught at the border, informed of the outstanding and historic attractions and aided in choosing the best routes. Material on nearly every state in the union is available for outbound Texans.

Mail for W. Lee O'Daniel is arriving at the capitol, some addressed to him as "Governor" O'Daniel, some as "Hon." and some as plain "Mr." O'Daniel.

The mailman takes it up to the suite of Gov. James V. Allred, whose staff sends it to the governor-nominate in Fort Worth. It isn't opened in Austin.

Governor Allred's secretaries say they haven't the least idea what the letters to O'Daniel are about but persons who have had a look at the mail received at his Fort Worth offices know pretty well without close examination.

The bulk of O'Daniel's mail is made up of requests for jobs and suggestions on how to run the government. In the latter category, the communications on old age assistance are large.

Types of persons who visit the capitol for sight-seeing purposes vary with the seasons.

Along in April and May hardly a day passes without the arrival of throngs of school children, some of whom travel long distances to "take in" Austin and the many points of historic interest about it.

In June, July and August, the visitors are distinctly "tourist" in type. The women are clad, quite often, in riding pants and slacks; the men, also in sports outfits. Cameras are plentiful.

A few days ago, custodians of the house and senate chambers report, there was an influx of bright-eyed, rather bashful, boys and girls around the ages of 16, 17 and 18, accompanied, apparently, by their mamas and papas.

They were new students at the University of Texas whom the parents had brought to Austin. Parents and children were giving the statehouse the "once over."

About the first of the next year, the custodians add, there will be an influx of visitors from other states, virtually all elderly. They will be retired business folk, or others with independent incomes, going south for the winter.

Three fine oil portraits which always attract much attention from visitors to the capitol are those of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Vice President John N. Garner and Jesse Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which rest on floor racks in the senate chamber near the rostrum of the senate president.

They seem to be orphans, or stepchildren, among the rest of the senate paintings. All the others, which include two huge ones giving an artist's conception of the battles of the Alamo and San Jacinto, hang on the walls. Those of Roosevelt, Garner and Jones have been on the plain wooden floor racks about three years.

Employes of the senate who work about the hall the year around don't know where the portraits of the distinguished trio finally will be placed. They dare not move them for fear whatever they did would be censured by the senate.

Ultimately the senate will adopt a resolution directing the disposition of the portraits. In the meantime, nearly everyone in the capitol is afraid to lay a finger on them.

It has been suggested the paintings now hung in the house and senate chambers have become so numerous they ought to be displayed in some other room or rooms of the capitol, especially planned for a gallery.

The walls in both halls are simply full, not only with the paintings of historical character, but also with the group pictures of the various legislatures. Every two years another batch of the latter goes up. There is gound to be a halt.

A gallery for the historical works—and some say this might also house the pictures of the senators and house members—would greatly relieve the congestion.

CHAS. SAPP MAKES UNUSUAL RECORD UNIVERSITY TEXAS

Charles Sapp of Corsicana was among the few graduates of the University of Texas who graduated in August with his second degree received in a period of five years. The normal period of time required for this amount of work is seven years. Sapp finished a three-year law course in two years. While in the University of Texas law school he was editor of the Texas Law Review and received the annual prize of $100 offered by that publication for the best comment of the year. The articles was titled: "Taxation—Commercial Domicile and Multi-State Property Taxation of Intangibles."

Sapp worked his way through the University, serving as manager of a boarding house for several years.

BIG BARRIER PASSED

Much has been said about the people, in this great Nazi-Czech controversy, but less about the land. It also is very important in the big drama now being played.

Mountains like the Sudeten range that has formed the western border of Czechoslovakia, along with their mineral wealth, form a natural boundary against German expansion or conquest eastward. It was largely for this reason that the boundary of the new republic was established there by the Versailles peace conference, and for the same reason the Czech government insisted on the border remaining there.

Hitler wanted an "anschluss" of course with the 3,500,000 people of German origin living in that area. There was the racial bond, and they would strengthen his armies and his treasury. But his strategy has been to push his boundary beyond the Sudeten barrier with as little trouble and cost as possible, and then use the plains beyond as a starting point for his "drive to the East," the limits of which no one can foretell.

DEBASING THE LANGUAGE

A timely service in a good cause is rendered by President Dixon Ryan Fox of Union College in Schnectady, N. Y. Addressing his students in the opening session, he asked them to save the English language from "a general debasement of standards which threaten us on every side."

People who appreciate good English and know its value will welcome this enterprise and hope for its wide extension. There is no reason to question the warning given by President Fox. Our mother tongue is probably in a more chaotic state today than at any time within memory of the oldest college graduate, in spite of all the schools, dictionaries and books on good usage.

It must be regretfully admitted, too, that a good deal of the responsibility for this debasement rests with the writing profession. It is incredible to students of language and literary style, how the old standards have been breaking down lately. Grammatical rules are defied, words are misused, logic and good taste are ignored, to a degree that appalls many people whose professional work compels them to observe such things.

Business, too, is much to blame for this abuse and deterioration of the greatest living language. But the high schools, colleges, newspapers and magazines have the greatest responsibility. No decent mechanic would abuse his tools as many of us abuse our language.

"Self - determination of peoples" seems to have become self-determination of minorities. If every minority has a right to govern itself, where are you going to draw the line? And how are governments going to govern?

What Hitler is interested in, of course, is justice to the Sudetens. It is a mere coincidence that nearly all Czechoslovakia's material resources are in the Sudeten

One group of naval strategists holds that warships should go wherever there is trouble brewing, and another group says that's exactly the place they should stay away from.

WHY, ARROGANCE?

He blew his cheeks with puffs of breath
As if he were not meant for death;
He strode the earth with head held high
As if he were not meant to die.
And seeing him, as Cassius said:
"You'd wonder on what meat he fed."

He talked, as if to him alone
All things mysterious were known.
Yet question him why grass is green?
What keeps the early snowdrop clean?
How birds know southward when to fly?
He knew no more than you or I.

And this it is that puzzles me
How any man can bonstful be?
When mountain-large his ignorance shows
Against the little that he knows.
How can a man, howe'er endowed,
Grow arrogant and over-proud?

DEMOCRACY FOR BOYS

The Psychology department of the University of Iowa has just reported the results of an experiment they have been working at for two years. Groups of boys eleven and twelve years old set up successive regimes of democracy, dictatorship and anarchy under which they worked and played while records were kept of their achievements and behavior.

The observers found that every group of boys showed more friendliness and co-operation in the democracies than the autocracies. They developed more initiative and showed more enjoyment in their work.

In the dictatorships, where the leaders assigned each boy a definite task and told him when and how to work, there was three times as much quarreling and fighting as in the democracies. There were also greater apathy toward both work and play and a tendency to let down during the leader's absence.

In the anarchistic groups, without organization, fighting, loafing, horse-play and boredom prevailed.

The conclusion seems to be that children at that age get along best together, accomplish more and are generally happier when they work with a little guidance yet have a certain amount of freedom to plan their own activities and adjust their mutual relationships. Wise parents and educators discovered this truth long ago, but its sensible application to the educational system has not yet been widely made.

RELIGIOUS NATIONALISM

The super-nationalism troubling the world today seems to be allying itself with religion. In various countries the fact is somewhat disguised, as in Russia where they have made Comumnism a religion, in Germany where Hitler's Nazism and Aryanism have become a religion, and in Italy where Mussolini has introduced a sort of worship of Roman imperialism.

The Greek dictatorship, likewise basing its state faith on ancient glories—those of the Hellenic race—differs in joining them to a modern Christian group, the Orthodox Greek. In this the government shows surprising zeal. Under new laws, citizens found proselytizing in behalf of any other religion are to be fined and imprisoned, and foreigners guilty of the same offense are to be expelled. Action has already been taken against Christian Scientists and Roman Catholics.

There is a strong drive, too, against religious indifferences. The church has ancient powers renewed. School children must attend church on Sundays. Orphans and foundlings must be placed only in Orthodox institutions. It is a surprising world we are living in.

Blood-givers in transfusion cases are forming a union in New York, and the C. I. O. and A. F. and L. may soon be spilling blocd over them.

THE HAND OF DESTINY

BLUEPRINTS FOR HUMANITY

An interesting and ambitious undertaking is that of the Society for the Psychological Study of Social Issues. It aims to discover important facts about the human race not yet noted, and "to service the public as it goes through the economic wilderness which lies ahead, to the utterly different social order which will emerge two or three generations hence."

It will be different from this, no doubt. But "utterly" is a big word. It means completely, fully, in every respect. General history, however, gives an impression that all the important types of social and economic order we know anything about have been tried in the past.

It may be, as a writer in the New York Times suggests, that "every one of the cruel and brutal and bewildering facts of human behavior now overruning the world was noted by the applied psychologists who wrote Job and Ecclesiastes and Herodotus and Plutarch and Tacitus." How many of our earnest thinkers read them today.

THE RED CROSS

The American Red Cross is preparing to ship 60,000 barrels of flour to Spain for impartial distribution among refugees. It will be handled by the American Friends Service Committee, already well organized and giving relief to civilians in both Nationalist and Loyalist Spain.

"It is the traditional desire of the American people," says Norman Davis, chairman of the Red Cross, "to help innocent victims of suffering wherever they may be and whatever the cause, and the American Red Cross has been their agent of mercy in this work for fifty-seven years."

This reminds many Americans of the huge relief work they supporteed during and following the World War when orphans were sheltered and hungry people were fed, first in Belgium, later in Germany and wherever the need existed. The aid given by the Red Cross in recent floods and disasters in their own communities is bright in American memories.

Swiftness and efficacy of Red Cross assistance have become an American tradition, but one which we wish our fellow human beings in other parts of the world would not put to the test of war so often.

Why couldn't we all live comfortably just by paying each other pensions?

SOIL CONSERVATION SERVICE PLANNING WATER FACILITES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The soil Conservation Service said today the Department of Agriculture was setting up water facility regions in each of 17 western states in cooperation with state officials.

Congress provided $500,000 for use in the states as loans in building small dams, water pumping projects and other domestic and livestock water facilities during this fiscal year.

The Farm Security Administration decided recently to spend $5,000,000 for a similar purpose but only on farms where rehabilitation work was necessary.

Areas in which projects may be carried on are being established in North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, Utah, Colorado, Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, Nevada, California, Oregon and Washington.

Farmers can receive a loan up to $50,000 for any one project. The law requires repayment in twenty years.

Soil conservation officials said they were informed one area had been set up in Northwestern Texas and in an adjacent section of New Mexico.

ALLRED-O'DANIEL BROADCAST STARTS DEMANDS FOR JOBS

AUSTIN, Oct. 4.—(AP)—A recent nationwide broadcast by Governor James V. Allred and Governor-Nominate W. Lee O'Daniel, painting Texas as the "land of opportunity" started something which forced a committee of the state planning board to call a meeting here Friday.

State and federal employment bureaus have been flooded with letters from unemployed persons throughout the United States asking where they might find work.

One planning board official pointed out the state's industries had not yet found a place for 92,000 persons on WPA rolls at present.

Trav Lewis of Fort Worth, chairman of the board's government and social aspects committee, called the meeting to determine what to do with the applications.

Other members of the group are Byron Mitchell, director of the U. S. Re-Employment Service, Porter Whaley of San Antonio and Otis Fowler of Denton.

HELP TO STAMP OUT
WHOOPING COUGH

That Plague of Children that Takes too much Toll...

Whooping cough is a racking, destructive and sometimes fatal, acute infectious disease, all too often looked upon as one "a child must have." Do not treat whooping cough lightly – it is serious for very young children, and most unpleasant and painful, in any case.

Medical Science has discovered a vaccine for this disease that often prevents a child contracting the disease. After whooping cough has developed, this vaccine will often cure in a week or two, and save weeks of suffering, and much mental anguish and broken rest for parents. Treatment is inexpensive, harmless, and attended by very little pain. Ask your doctor about it.

FIFTH ZONE

proximately 5,000 miles of the new fifth zone, was marked for his possession by the international commission meeting at Berlin under a German chairman last night. It is to be occupied by the German army by Monday, Oct. 10.

It will bring the new frontier of expanding German to within 30 miles of Prague, Czechoslovakia's capital, at one point, at Leitmeritz.

In addition, Hitler has a good chance of augmenting the Ferman reich still further after plebiscites which the Munich conference agreed must be conducted by the end of November.

The military subcommittee assisting the international commission assembled today to fix exactly the boundary line of the territory ceded Germany yesterday by the commission and to work out a plan for the gradual occupation of this territor by the German army before Oct. 10.

A few hours later the supreme army command announced that German troops had crossed the former German-Czechoslovak frontier for occupation of the fourth zone on the schedule agreed upon by the four-power conference at Munich Sept. 30.

(Berlin dispatches published in Paris said Czechslovak and British members of the international commission had been told by Germany that they could grant Germany the new territories or Nazi armies would take it—even at the risk of war which the Munich accord was designed to prevent.

Peace With Honor.

(These reports said the Munich accord, which had been explained to the French people as "peace with honor," by constant German pressure had now been converted to almost exactly the terms of Hitler's Godesberg ultimatum—demanding cession of certain Sudeten territories by Oct. 1.)

Chancellor Hitler, on a visit to the second zone of occupation, arrived at Goerlitz at 8:13 a.m. and was greeted by a jubilant populace.

The new territory of zone five was granted Germany without the formality of a plebiscite. It deepened the zones previously marked out at Munich to take in a number of towns around the western half of Czechoclovakia.

Among important sections of the new territory were the coal basin of Sux and Bruex, the glass-manufacturing city of Gablonz and the textile center at Reichenberg.

In area, it is approximately one-fourth of th 20,000 square-mile Sudeten area claimed by Germany.

German Troops March In.

With the German Army of Occupation in Sudetenland, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Two divisions of Germany's Eighth Army Corps marched today into the original Sudetenland in Silesia, the fourth zone of occupation created by the Munich peace agreement.

About 24,000 soldiers under command of Col.-Gen. Karl Rudolf Gerd Von Roundstedt occupied one-third of the zone without incident.

The fourth zone includes the Sudetes mountains.

Sounds of scattered shots came down the valley from "Old Father" mountain—one of the Sudeten chain—as the Germans approached the front line set for today's advance.

German officers said they thought Czechoslovak soldiers were firing into the air as they retired from the district.

The Germans marched in at 8 a. m. (2 a. m. Eastern Standard time) from four different points. Col.-Gen. Von Rundstedt and his staff stood on the frontier and reviewed one column of troops as it crossed at Gross Kunzendorf. There were 100 tanks in this column.

Sons of West In College Find It Hard to Take

STEPHENVILLE, Oct. 6.—(AP)—So unaccustomed is 18-year-old W. T. Miller, ranch boy, to walking that he rides a cow pony to and from his boarding house to classes at John Tarleton College here.

His roommate, W. C. Currie of Sterling City, another son of the open spaces, is wearing shoes for the first time in 13 years. He had always worn high-heeled cowboy boots.

FAIR

deo Wednesday night, the crowd failed to show any favoritism toward any of the displays but contented themselves with "just seeing everything."

Thursday was "Good Neighbor Day" for the fair and was dedicated particularly to the residents of the counties adjoining Navarro. One of the highlights of the day's schedule is the old fiddlers' contest at 6 p. m. and numerous entries were reported on opening day for the competition.

Auction Friday.

Friday will be featured by boys' activities and the afternoon will be climaxed by the auction of the special class of feeder calves at 2 o'clock with H. L. Hull of Henrietta as the presiding official.

Among the notable visitors Wednesday was R. J. Kinzer, executive secretary of the American Hereford Association, who was lavish in his praise of the fair plant and especially about the top quality of the livestock entries in all departments. The national association gave the Corsicana show special recognition by augmenting all Hereford division prizes 25 per cent over the listed premiums.

Quite naturally the Texas championship rodeo was the big spectacle of the night and it drew one of the most colorful crowds in the history of Corsicana, perhaps exceeded only by the attendance at the Corsicana-Masonic Home state championship football contest of several years ago.

Variety of Entertainment

An interesting variety of entertainment was presented in the arena with trick and fancy roping, and hilarious acts by Charly Shultz and Little Bunkie, mingled in with the main rodeo events.

The opening spectacle which presented several score riders in the grand entry brought a well-deserved round of applause, and the competition between the various community sponsors in the "figure-eight" gave an opportunity for some friendly rivalry between hometown supporters of the various entries.

Colorful Grand Entry.

The rodeo performance was opened Wednesday night with a colorful grand entry which was headed by J. N. Edens, Jr., carrying the United States flag and Fred M. Allison, Jr., carrying the Texas flag, and followed by officials of the fair association, and various community sponsors, performers and a host of riders from many sections of the surrounding area.

Included in the sponsors competition were:

Mrs. W. R. Cashion representing Wortham.

Miss Sue Savage representing Dawson.

Miss Betsy Hyer representing Frost.

Mrs. Joe Weaver Alderman representing Richland.

Miss Macca Savage representing Malakoff.

Miss Ida Marie Crews representing Waco.

Mrs. Cam Gunter representing Mexia.

Mrs. R. D. Jones representing Trinidad

Mrs. Roy Maxwell representing Navarro.

Miss LaVerne Crawford representing Teens

Miss Mary Elizabeth Beccue, representing Eureka.

Mrs. Jack Barfield representing McGregor.

Miss Bertha Farmer representing Roane.

Miss Mary John Davis, representing Corsicana.

Mrs. J. P. McKinney, official hostess.

"Miss Guthrie" representing Guthrie, Okla.

Top Contenders.

At the completion of the first night of competition the top contenders were as follows:

Calf roping: Frank Hostick, 16 seconds flat; Buddy May, 22 seconds.

Bulldogging: Tom Perkins 12 seconds; Bill Hedges 31 1-5 seconds.

A number of other contenders were expected to get into the running at the remaining sessions of the rodeo, and considerable activity was scheduled in the steer and bronc riding divisions.

Workmen were engaged all day Thursday in watering and otherwise attempting to settle the dust for the comfort of fair patrons. In spite of a record number of cars, officials said that there were no difficulties encountered in handling the parking of vehicles.

Corporation Court.

Two charges of intoxication, one of making a left turn on Beaton street, two of operating automobiles with only one headlamp, two of parking too near a fireplug, one of parking in a fire lane, three of intoxication and disturbing the peace, one of affray, and one of intoxication and abusive language brought offenders into the Corsicana Corporation Court Thursday morning.

INTERNATIONAL

While German troops marched into the fourth zone allotted to Berlin at Munich, the international Sudetenland commission handed Reichsfeuhrer Hitler a choice fifth zone, half as large as all the other four.

In addition, Hitler has a good chance of extending Germany's frontier deeper after plebiscites which the Munich confrence agreed must be held by the end of November.

The Feuhrer himself visited the second zone of occupation in Czechoslovakia and was greeted by jubilant Sudeten Germans at Goerlitz.

Germany also has won economic and political advantages. Her demand for reparations was considered a lever to force Czechoslovakia into Germany's economic orbit. Official and industrial circles predicted that the resignation of Czechoslovak President Eduard Benes, who was biterly denounced by Hitler, would place dealings between Prague and Berlin on an entirely new basis.

As a bitter four-day debate on Prime Minister Chamberlain's "Peace in our time" neared its climax in the British parliament, Chamberlain spiked talk of peace time conscription in Britain but planned an unparalleled new rearmament program.

In France, Premier Edouard Daladier sought a program with which he could rebuild France completely in the six weeks of dictatorial power parliament had granted him.

Mammoth Task.

His mammoth task was to put the nation's upset economic and financial house in order and mend internal political dissension.

Textbooks of 114 Jewish authors were banned from Italian schools The action, taken in a circular issued by the ministry of education, preceded a meeting tonight (4 p. m., EST) of the grand council to approve a new legislative chamber and discuss both the general political situation and the fate of Italian Jews under the new fascist antisemetic program.

Britain took urgent military and diplomatic steps to quell Arab rebellion in Palestine where, the government conceded, there has been "serious deterioration in the general situation." British troops and aviators killed an estimated 60 Arabs near Mount Tabor and near Safed yesterday. There have been hundreds of casualties in Arab-Jewish racial strife since it flared anew last July 5.

Dispatches from Spain indicated that fighting in the civil war was confined to local engagements on the Ebro river front in lower Catalonia.

With planes and warships blasting a pathway, Japanese troops drove a mile up the Yangtze river to about 90 miles from the Chinese provisional capital, Hankow, their goal since last July.

CHAMBERLAIN

tees has not known it was impossible to determine the number of absentations from the voting among conservative ranks until official records are made public tomorrow.

One analysis said about 18 government members were believed to have abstained from the expression of confidence. This compared with forecasts before the vote that 40 might abstain.

Winston Churchill and some other conservatives abstained but, on the other side, George Lansbury and a half dozen laborite pacifists as well as four independent labor members also abstained.

Declared Was Justified.

In an impassioned speech just before the vote, Chamberlain declared he was justified in making the Munich settlement because of the "people's hatred of the motion of starting to kill one another again."

He intimated a vast new British defense effort coupled with a "new spiritual revival."

In answer to labor attacks on his policy he declared that to "accuse us of having betrayed Czechoslovakia is simply preposterous. What we did was save her from annihilation and give her a chance for a new life."

Chamberlain declared he could not ask the people to suffer a war unless they were fighting "for a final cause—a cause that transcends all ordinary human values—a cause that is sacred."

The Sudeten German issue, he said, was not such a cause.

"In looking back," he said "I feel convinced...That by my action I did avert war.

"I am equally sure I was right in doing so."

Calls For Diplomacy.

Calling for "diplomacy behind strength," Chamberlain foreshadowed a sweeping inquiry to "cover the whole of our preparations, military and civil, to discover what further steps may be necessary to make good our deficiencies in the shortest possible time."

The prime minister turned down a labor suggestion for a world economic and political conference until there is a reasonable prospect of success and until "you are sure the totalitarian powers will attend."

"I do indeed believe we may yet secure peace for our time," Chamberlain said.

But he said, he never suggested that could be attained by disarmament.

"Until we can induce others to disarm," he declared, "disarmament means weakness."

Not Hitler's Work.

Chamberlain said that he, not Hitler, drew up the British-German declaration of good will at Munich. He said it was a pact, but his own and the Feuhrer's "opinion of the desire of their respective peoples" never to go to war with each other again.

"I have been charged with cowardice, weakness, presumption and stupidity," the Prime minister continued, "I have been accused of bringing the country to the edge of war and have been denied the merit of snatching it back to safety.

"Nobody who had been through what I had to go through, day after day, faced with the thought that in the last resort it would be I, and I alone, who had to say that yes or no which would decide the fate of millions of my countrymen, their wives and families, could readily forget it.

"For that reason I am not here in a mood to see what I can do by way of retort....

Explaining his opposition to a general election, the prime minister said he would not allow himself to "capitalize" on the nation's feeling of relief "to gain a temporary advantage."

Chamberlain also won by 313 votes to 150, the first house of commons vote in the closing hours of debate on the four-power "peace of Munich."

The house approved his motion for adjournment this afternoon until November 1.

Harold McMillian, a conservative, joined the opposition, declaring he was afraid commons was being treated "more and more as a kind of reichstag (German diet) just meeting to hear orations and register decrees."

Winston Churchill, conservative, opponent of Chamberlain's foreign policy, also opposed adjournment.

He compared the move for adjournment with the "situation in other countries where impatience with parliamentary machine has swept it away and led to one-man rule."

The prime minister, retorting angrily, accused Churchill of repeating "tittle tattle" about how the inner cabinet conducts he government.

The British government refused to answer excited questions in the House of Commons as to whether it was doing anything to insure the safety of Eduard Benes, who resigned yesterday as president of Czechoslovakia.

At the same time Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain spiked talk of conscription during the last day of the commons debate on the four-power Munich peace agreement. He told the house his opposition to compulsory national service in peacetime still held good.

Chamberlain planned an unparalleled new rearmament project today as a sequel to a parliamentary airing of his Munich "peace in our time" commitments.

Repeated admissions of "gaps in the nation's defense" were said to have annoyed Chamberlain. He therefore is asking his ministers for a concrete and convincing program to be ready before the house of commons convenes again in regular session November 1.

BASEBALL

(NL) first; Hubbard (AL) second; Moran (NL) third.

First Inning

Yankees: Dean's first pitch to Crosetti was a called strike. Crosetti flied out to Reynolds, who took the ball with his back almost against the left field wall. Dean made a nice stop on Rolfe's bunt and threw him out at first. Jurges took Henrich's fly. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Cubs: Hack, first man up, dropped a single in left. Herman struck out. Demaree singled between first and second base into right field sending Hack to third. When Rolfe fumbled Henrich's throw-in Demaree went to second. DiMaggio backed against the wall in left center to take Marty's fly, Hack scoring after the catch. Demaree went to third on the throw-in. Reynolds struck out. One run, two hits, one error, one left.

Second Inning

Yankees: DiMaggio singled over Jurges' head into left field. It was his first hit of the series. The Cub bullpen became busy as Gehrig went to bat. Two pitchers, lefthander Larry French and the veteran righthander Jack Russell started to warm up. Gehrig walked. Hartnett and Dean conferred near the mound. Dickey flied to Jurges. Marty came all the way over to short right field and took Selkirk's fly. Hack and Jurges collided in going after Gordon's easy roller and it rolled all the way into left field for a two-base hit. DiMaggio and Gehrig both scored on the play. Gomez flied to Reynolds in short left. Two runs, two hits, no errors, one left.

Cubs: Hartnett sent a long fly to Henrich. With a southpaw pitching, Collins, a switch hitter, shifted to a right hand batter. Collins bounced a single off Rolfe's glove. Jurges forced Collins at second, Rolfe to Gordon but Jurges was safe at first. Crosetti threw ut Dean. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Third Inning

Yankees: Reynolds ran to the left field corner to take Crosetti's fly. Herman took Rolfe's bounder and threw him out. Herman also threw out Henrich and the crowd roared as Dizzy's "nuthin'" ball was definitely handcuffing the Yankee hitters. His curve was breaking more than a foot as it crossed the plate. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Cubs: Hack beat out an infield hit. The ball went by Rolfe but Crosetti, backing up the play, stopped it. His throw was too late to catch Hack. Herman's bouncer went to Crosetti near second base and the Cub second baseman beat it out for a single. Hack stopped at second. Demaree bunted and Dickey threw him out. Dickey fell fielding the ball and threw to Gehrig while lying on his side. Hack and Herman advanced on the play. Marty doubled to deep center scoring Hack and Herman. Dickey and Gomez went into a huddle. As Gomez's first three pitches to Reynolds were balls, Bump Hadley started to warm up in the Yankee bullpen. Reynolds walked on five pitches. DiMaggio raced in and took Hartnett's fly in short center. Gomez fanned Collins. Two runs, three hits, no errors, two left.

Fourth Inning

Yankees: DiMaggio fouled to Hartnett. Collins fell chasing Gehrig's grounder and it rolled into right field for a single. Dickey bounced into a fast double play, Herman to Jurges to Collins. The Cub infield was clicking at a much better rate than yesterday's game. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Cubs: Jurges grounded to Rolfe and was out at first by a shade. Dean drove the first pitch to him between Rolfe and Crosetti into left field for a single. Hack worked the count to three and two and then bounded into a double play, Crosetti to Gordon to Gehrig. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Fifth Inning

Yankees: Selkirk sent a high foul fly to Collins. The sun had burned most of the cloudy away, and the day grew warmer. Gordon grounded to Hack and was thrown out easily. Gomez was thrown out by Herman on a slow roller. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Cubs: Herman flied to Gordon on the edge of the outfield grass. DiMaggio ran in to short center to take Demaree's fly. Marty's second straight hit was a line single to left. Marty was out stealing, Dickey to Crosetti. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Sixth Inning

Yankees: Reynolds went back to the left field wall to take Crosetti's fly. Rolfe fanned. Henrich's bounder almost hit Dean in the face. The pitcher barely knocked it down and threw Henrich out. As he passed the sixth inning hurdle and still was complete master of "murderer's row" Dean drew a tremendous roar of cheers from the crowd. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Cubs: Crosetti took Reynolds' pop fly in front of second base. Hartnett sent a long fly which DiMaggio took near the 400-foot mark in center field. Rolfe took Collins' grounded but threw wide to first for an error and Collins was safe. Jurges forced Collins, Crosetti taking his grounder and stepping on second. No runs, no hits, one error, one left.

Seventh Inning

Yankees: DiMaggio grounded out to Hack who threw the ball from five yards back of third base. Gehrig flied to Demaree near the right field line. Marty took Dickey's 400-foot fly in right center and for the third straight inning Dean had retired the Yankees in order. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Cubs: As Dean came to bat the crowd cheered for a full minute. Dean's second straight hit, was a single to right. Hack was called out on strikes. He protested to Umpire Kolls but it did no good as usual. Herman struck out. Dean was caught napping off first base and was put out, Gomez to Gordon. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Eighth Inning

Yankees: Selkirk lined a single to right. Gordon forced Selkirk, Hack to Herman but Gordon was safe at first on the fielder's choice, just beating Herman's attempt at a double play. Myrll Hoag, a right hand hitter, batted for Gomez. Herman took Hoag's grounder and threw to Jurges, forcing Gordon. The batter was safe on the fielder's choice. Dean made several vain attempts to catch Hoag off first. After fouling off eight pitches and with the count three and two, Crosetti smashed a home run into the bleachers in left scoring Hoag in front of him and putting the Yankees ahead. The ball travelled some 350 feet. Crosetti had hit only nine homers during the regular 1938 season. Rolfe was called out on strikes. Two runs, two hits, no errors, none left.

Cubs: Johnny Murphy, square jawed right hand relief pitching ace of the Yankees, was the New York pitcher. The sun was bothering the infielders. Demaree fanned, on a wide curve. He swung so hard at the ball that he sat down on the plate. Marty's third hit of the game was a single to right and the Cub cheering section, plunged in gloom by Crosetti's homer, came to life again. Reynolds rolled into a double play, Gordon to Crosetti to Gehrig. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Ninth Inning

Yankees: Henrich slashed a single to right. DiMaggio smashed a home run over the left field wall and into the street beyond scoring Henrich in front of him. The ball went out of the park about ten feet above the wall and some twenty-five feet inside the left field foul line. That was enough for Dizzy and Larry French, a southpaw, replaced him after a prolonged huddle of the entire Cub infield. It was apparent that the famous Yankee power held in check by Dean's "nuthin'" ball for seven innings and by Bill Lee for nine yesterday was finally breaking loose. Gehrig fanned, swinging at a wide curve. Dickey rolled out to Collins, unassisted. The fourth ball to Selkirk hit him on the left hip and he went to first base. It was scored as a hit batsman, not a walk. Gordon struck out on three pitches. Two runs, two hits, no errors, one left.

Cubs: It was announced in the press box that the scoring on Selkirk in the Yankees' half of the ninth should have been a base on balls not a hit batsman. Word came up from the Yankee dugout that he was not hit by a pitch, but had wrenched his back in pulling away from an inside ball. Hartnett flied out to Henrich in deep right. Gordon dropped Collins' grounder but recovered in time to throw him out. Jurges walked on five pitches. Jake Powell had taken Selkirk's place in left field for the Yankees at the start of the inning. Phil Cavarretta, a left hand hitter, batted for French. Cavarretta rolled a single through Gordon's legs, Jurges going to second. Hack lined to Crosetti, the shortstop taking the ball off his shoetops. No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

Dizzy Dean Drew Crowd to Stands

By PAUL MICKELSON

WRIGLEY FIELD, Chicago, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Sensing one of the greatest melodramas in the big show's thrill packed history, the baseball faithful stormed Wrigley Field today to watch the fabulous Dizzy Dean face the all invincible Lefty Gomez in a desperate attempt to put the Chicago Cubs back even with the New York Yankees in the running for the world's championship.

Like yesterday, when the Yankees put pitching, hitting and fielding together to rout the Cubs 3-1 in the series opener, it was a bad day for baseball—cloudy, cold and windy—but the bleachers were filled almost to capacity by 5,000 shivering fans an hour after the gates were opened at 10 a. m. (EST).

The tremendous doubledecked concrete stand, which looks so much like a giant ocean liner, was regarded as a sure barometer of another filled park of more than 42,000.

Usually, when a home club loses an opener, the second day's crowd is much smaller but a pitching duel between the great Dean, who uses his head and heart for an arm, and Gomez, a man trying to establish a new world series record of six victories against no defeats, pulled them back into the park.

The weather, seemingly was ideal for the sener, who searted badly this season and finished grandly. A brisk northeast wind swept off Lake Michigan directly toward the plate, giving him a wind to hook his fast one on for the enemy batters.

Weather Cold

As the Cubs, led by Lee, came onto the field for practice the temperature was 53 with no prospects of getting warmer. Pat Page, old Indiana university football coach, tossed southpaw slants to the Cub hitters in early batting practice.

With the brisk wind still sweeping directly toward home plate, the Cubs failed to open with any batting practice home runs.

The sun came out as the Yanks took the field but darted behind the clouds almost immediately. The wind subsided a bit but still was strong enough to make everybody uncomfortable. About the only persons in the park who were warm and cozy were writers and radio announcers who worked in glass enclosed boxes.

Against the brisk wind, the Yanks failed to smack long ones into the stands and the bleacher fans hollered for baseballs.

Dickey, who tied the world series record yesterday with four hits, finally obliged, sailing one of batting practice Pitcher Paul Schreiber's right hand slants high into the rightfield bleachers.

More Applications Old Age Pensions Are Being Handled

AUSTIN, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Old age pension officials said today the administration was handling approximately 6,100 new applications and 1,300 re-applications each month.

The officials said the figures meant that each month 1,100 persons who passed their 65th birthday thought they were entitled to assistance and 1,300 who previously had been refused believed their economic conditions had become so bad they were eligible.

Crop failures, loss of children who had contributed to their support and other factors usually figured in re-applications, officials explained.

Japanese Advance Up Yangtze River

SHANGHAI, Oct. 6.—(AP)—With planes and warships blasting a pathway, Japanese troops advanced a mile up the Yangtze river today toward Hankow, provisional Chinese capital and Japanese objective since July.

Minesweepers cleared the Yangtze channel for following Japanese transports. Fierce fighting occurred on other fronts but without major change in troop positions.

cial assessment of one cent per member per month.

"If the unexpected happens," Green said, "then the typographical union is definitely out of the American Federation of Labor until the indebtedness is paid."

Baker Makes Plea.

I. T. U. President Baker, like Green, made a strong plea to the convention to retain the union until the membership has a chance to act by referendum.

He said he knew something of the "highly organized campaign of propaganda used to misrepresent the situation" to the printers' union.

Baker made mention of I.T.U. officials with an A.F. of L. commission in one pocket and a C. I. O. commission in the other, campaigning against payment of the assessment.

The late Charles Howard, during his tenure as president of the I.T.U., also was secretary of the rival C.I.O.

"I hope the day never comes," he said, "when the I.T.U. is kicked out of the A.F. of L."

Daniel Tobin, president of the teamsters union, in a speech to the convention on the I.T.U. delegate issue, said if the union was seated "it must be understood that the door is not open to other organizations to do likewise."

Senator James J. Davis, (R-Pa) seeking re-election with the support of President Green, assailed what he called "political domination" of labor through legislation.

In a speech to the convention delegates, Davis said:

"If industry had accepted the philosophy of the Samuel Gompers there would have been no need for us to have filled our statute books with labor laws.

"Nothing shall be done through political force that can be done through voluntary co-operation because political domination can and will outrun industrial tyranny. America wants no dictatorship, because the efficiency of dictatorship is only temporary."

"If labor gets a noose about its neck instead of fair labor laws," he added, "it will regret the day it sought political aid to solve its troubles."

HOUSTON, Oct. 6.—(AP)—John L. Lewis' formal call for CIO's first constitutional convention was generally interpreted in high American Federation of Labor sources today as exploding all immediate hopes for an end to the A. F. of L.-C. I. O. war.

The CIO chairman's announcement that his new industrial union movement would seek to establish itself as a permanent organization at a meeting in Pittsburgh November 14 came almost immediately after President Roosevelt, in a message to the A. F. of L. annual convention here, had appealed for labor peace.

William Green, the federation's president, indicated he considered Lewis' action as a rebuff to the president's first publicly voiced hope that organized labor leaders would make and keep the peace to save the workers from the reaction that might follow continued strife.

"In my opinion," Green said, "this call for a convention in Pittsburgh can be interpreted as an answer to President Roosevelt's suggestion for terminating labor's internal strife."

He declined, however, to comment on the possible long range effects of the Lewis move to create a permanent organization to rival the 58-year-old A. F. of L.

Green indicated that the convention resolutions committee might take cognizance of the CIO's determination to make the three year old split permanent when it issues its official report on the CIO situation and the futile efforts to negotiate peace last December.

PRESIDENT BENES OF CZECHOSLOVAKIA QUIT WEDNESDAY

GEN. JAN SYROVY, WAR-VETERAN PREMIER, EXPECTED ASSUME REINS

PRAGUE, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Eduard Benes, target of Adolf Hitler's enmity, resigned today as president of Czechoslovakia because, he said, "my remaining in office might constitute an obstacle to the new conditions which now confront this state."

The resignation was accepted unanimously by the full council of ministers.

The little chief of state, who for 20 years had helped hold Czechoslovakia together as foreign minister, premier and for the last three years president, bowed to the pressure of events which were dismembering his nation.

General Jan Syrovy, one-eyed war veteran premier, was expected to exercise the president's functions until a successor to Benes is chosen by the national assembly.

Syrovy in a broadcast said:

"Our policy will aim at friendly relations with everybody. In order to live in security it is necessary to cultivate good relations with our neighbors.

"We shall do everything in our power to give satisfaction to the justified claims of the Slovaks and Sub-Carpathian Russians (Ruthenians.) Our state will be based on equality of the three peoples."

Benes' resignation was not unexpected although it had been denied several times recently he intended to step down.

Became President In 1935.

Benes became president of Czechoslovakia in December, 1935, succeeding the founder of the republic, the late Thomas G. Masahyk.

The Munich agreement of the four big powers, compelling Czechoslovakia to cede the Sudetenland to Germany, represented a complete failure of the foreign policy with which Benes had been closely associated since the founding of the state 20 years ago.

The pressure of Britain and France to compel Benes and his government to accept submission to the terms of Adolf Hitler proved a tremendous blow.

Informed persons felt that Benes' departure from office—and possibly from the country—might remove the current acute situation and make collaboration with Germany possible.

Benes had been the target for bitter attacks by Hitler and other German leaders and for a scatching campaign of denunciation in the German press.

It was understood General Jan Syrovy, soldier-premier, would be acting president until an election could be arranged to choose Benes' successor.

The election will be conducted by the national assembly, composed of the chamber of deputies and the senate sitting together.

To Broadcast Farewell.

Benes prepared to broadcast his farewell address to the world tonight.

Some sources said Benes' resignation followed renewed German pressure based on Hitler's personal antagonism to the Czechoslovak president.

It was reliably reported Hitler had indicated he would be more generous in his negotiations with the new Czech state if a president more acceptable to Germany were named.

Meanwhile, the new cabinet moved swiftly in an attempt to solve minority problems still threatening the republic's existence.

At its first meeting it decided no Czech officials should be appointed in Ruthenia without the approval of Ivan Parkany, minister without portfolio, who is a native of Ruthenia, Czechoslocakia's farthest eastern section.

Government representatives also were named for two commissions, one to settle details of the Polish frontier controversy and the other to seek a resolution of Hungarian demands.

At the same time the cabinet began consideration of a concrete plan to solve the Slovak appeal for an autonomous administration, pointing toward the possible establishment of a special ministry.

Political circles—even Germans—greeted warmly the appointment of Frantisek Chvalkovsky as foreign minister to succeed Dr. Kamil Krofta.

It was disclosed that Propaganda Minister Hugo Vavrecka was on route to Berlin to attend a meeting of the international commission regulating German occupation of Sudetenland.

It was reported that Poles and Hungarians both had approached the Slovaks with offers of assistance, but so far the Slovaks were understood to have turned them down for fear acceptance would imperil the future of the Czechoslovak state.

A band of several hundred irregulars was reported to have crossed into Czechoslovakia from Hungary and attacked municipal buildings at Felendince.

The cabinet also started work on economic readjustments to put Czechoslovakia, shrinking daily, as German and Polish armies occupy ceded territory, on a stable basis.

JAILER'S DAUGHTER BEHIND BARS FOR AIDING IN ESCAPE OF TWO YOUTHFUL CRIMINALS

LEXINGTON, N. C., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Lula Belle Kimel, 22, a jailer's daughter, was behind the bars today because she took pity on a youth charged with a capital offense and, according to a confession which Sheriff Raymond Bowes said she made, allowed the youth and a fellow prisoner their freedom.

James Godwin, 19, of High Point, and Bill Wilson, 21, of Hickory, escaped Monday from the Davidson county jail. Several hours after their get-away, police began receiving reports of highway robbery and holdups. One man, Donald Moss of High Point, was shot fatally as he stepped from his car. Police Sergeant W. B. Ridge of High Point said the crimes were attributed to Godwin and Wilson.

Godwin was being held on a charge of first degree burglary in the forcible entering of his aged grandparent's house two months ago. The old man, too, was badly beaten the night of the robbery. Wilson was charged with a holdup.

Jailer T. C. Kimel locked up Lula Belle yesterday and wrote a letter to Sheriff Bowers asking that he be relieved of his duties "pending a full and complete investigation by your office, the county authorities and the court."

"I am humiliated and grieved beyond control and have locked my own daughter in jail in order that justice may find its course," Kimel wrote his superior.

Bowers quoted Lula Belle as saying that she released Godwin "after he had gotten religion and promised to go straight" and because she did not want to see him "go the gas chamber."

Bowers quoted the young woman as saying that Godwin released Wilson and that they left the jail together.

ROOSEVELT MAKES APPEAL FOR PEACE IN LABOR DISPUTE

By T. F. COMAN

HOUSTON, Oct. 4.—(AP)—President Roosevelt placed before the American Federation of Labor's annual convention today a plea for an end to labor's civil war—a plea to leave open every possible door of access to peace and progress in the affairs of organized labor in the United States.

Mr. Roosevelt urged that organized labor leaders end their three year old struggle to prevent the reaction which otherwise is bound to injure the workers themselves."

William Green, the Federation's president, described the message as pleasing and satisfactory" but the delegates scarcely had time to catch the import of the presidential appeal before Green lashed out at the organizing tactics of John L. Lewis United Mine Workers of America, the key unit of the rival CIO.

He declared the U. M. W. was trying to suppress and break up organization meetings of the Progressive Miners of America, chartered by the A. F. of L. last May to oppose Lewis U. M. W.

"Come what may," he shouted, "we are going on and on until we win this fight for the miners of America."

Bitterly assailing the U. M. W. and its leadership Green declared that he would try to free the minars "from the semi-bondage in which they now find themselves."

Starts Speculation.

Green's warlike declaration against Lewis' mine union, coming almost immediately after the reading of the presidents' peace message, started a wave of convention speculation on how the Federation leaders would receive Mr. Roosevelt's plea in their inner councils.

In his brief appeal for an end to labor rivalry, the president said:

"Because for more than a quarter of a century I have had so many associations and friendships with officers of the American Federation of Labor and of the international unions which it represents," Mr. Roosevelt said in his letter to the delegates, "I venture to express the hope that the convention will leave open every possible door of access to peace and progress in the affairs of organized labor in the United States.

"If leaders of organized labor can make and keep peace between various opinions and factions within the labor group itself, it will vastly increase the prestige of labor with the country and prevent the reaction which otherwise is bound to injure the workers themselves."

The President's words did not bring any immediate reaction from the federation's delegates, although there was scattered applause after Secretary Frank Morrison finished reading the letter.

Labor observers said they considered it the strongest plea the President has made for labor peace among the factions which split three years ago over the issue of industrial unionism for the mass production industries.

The President's plea that the door to peace be left open is expected to be taken under advisement by the A. F. of L. executive council. The council's report to the convention yesterday called for a continuation of the special assessment war chest setup a year ago to finance an organizing drive in the civil war with C. I. O.

Termed Most Pleasing.

President William Green of the A. F. of L. termed the President's message a "most pleasing and satisfactory message."

Mr. Roosevelt also said he hoped the convention would give attention to the problem of finding steady employment for labor "and increasing the annual purchasing power."

Reflecting the thought of many economists that an annual wage should be the goal of labor, the President said: "It is what a worker earns for himself and his family in the course of a year which is important, not only for his own economic plan for his life, but for the economic life of the nation.

"In many sections and in many occupations which fall under the general classification of labor, there are millions of Americans who suffer from inadequate pay or over-long hours, or both."

Mr. Roosevelt recommended that the delegates study the reports on British and Swedish labor conditions and laws brought back from abroad last summer by a special Presidential commission.

Robert J. Watt, the American labor delegate to the International labor office who represented the A. F. of L. on the presidential commission, gave the convention a summary of his views on industrial conditions in England and Sweden just before the reading of the President's message.

At Conference Table.

Describing the close relations between employers and employes in Great Britain, Watt said:

"Militant trade unionism is demonstrated at the conference table rather than on the picket line."

He said the President's commission, on which CIO Chairman John L. Lewis, refused representation, was "not instructed to seek any formula for use in the United States and were not told to compare the British or Swedish experience with the National Labor Relations act."

Nathan Straus, administrator of the U. S. Housing authority, told the convention that the funds for slum clearance and low cost housing construction would soon be exhausted, either through earmarking or actual allocation. It was up to congress and labor, he said, to decide whether additional funds should be provided for the program.

Out of $800,000,000 congress set aside ofr loans and subsidy grants under the U. S. H. A. Straus estimated that "at least $600,000,000 will go directly into construction—into pay envelopes of men working on the sites."

Many Resolutions Face Committees

HOUSTON, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Nearly 100 resolutions including one attacking the Reconstruction Finance Corp., for reputedly loaning funds to employers paying sub-standard wages were under consideration today by committees of the American Federation of labor's annual convention.

The delegates from the Brotherhood of Operative Potters submitted the resolution censuring the RFC's loan policies, and proposed that the federation's officers either ask for the removal of the RFC officials, or seek "legislation which will prevent chiseling exploiters of labor x x from obtaining loans of deferal funds. The chairman of the RFC is Jesse Jones, one of Houston's leading business men.

The Potters' delegates complained that loans were made to employers who refused "their workers the right of collective bargaining and refuse to pay their workers the minimum wages which prevail in such industry."

Well informed officials said the resolution was aimed at the pottery industry.

The long list of resolutions, it was reported, also contained one calling on the convention to instruct federation officers to oppose senate confirmation of Donald Wakefield Smith's reappointment to the National Labor Relations board.

The inclusion of the resolution on Smith appeared to confirm advance indications that the whole question of labor board's administration of the Wagner Labor Relations Act would be the principal issue at the Federation's 58th meeting

mediate occupation are cities and towns in which the population is ethnically "purely Czech."

It asserted that the German members of the commission demanded that plebiscites be held in areas in which Germans represent only two-tenths to six and a half per cent of the population.

Pre-War Statistics.

"To support their thesis," the communique continued, "the Germans are using statistics established before the world war by the Austro-Hungarian empire." (The commission agreed to accept population figures of Oct. 28, 1918—date of Czechoslovakia's foundation—but many observers said this actually meant reverting to the census of 1910.)

The Czechs contend that these figures did not take into account the real language of the people but only the language which Austrian law made official. Since officials of the Sudeten region were German-speaking appointees the statistics show many regions having purely Czech populations to be German.

The communique said that when the system of statistics was changed Oct. 18, 1918, and each district was left to choose its own official language many elected to make Czech the official tongue.

"The demands of the German experts tend to compromise the Munich accord by refusing the Czech people the same rights of free disposition which the Germans demand in favor of the Sideten Germans," the communique said.

Must Cede Land for Friendship.

WARSAW, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The official newspaper Gazeta Polska said today Polish-Czechoslovak friendship would depend on the cession of Carpathian-Ruthenian land to Hungary.

"This will answer whether the Czechs wish to accept cordially or hand sincerely extended to them with the purpose of friendly and neighborly relations," the paper said, "or whether they still (base hopes on) a policy of adventurous alliances to construct bridges to the Soviets and to surround us from the back."

The Gazeta Polska declared Czechoslovaks in the past used Carpathian-Ruthenian land, in eastern Czechoslovakia, as a base for communist propaganda in order to demoralize the Ukrainians of Poland and Rumania.

rail communications between those two provinces.

In addition to the loss of vital communications, it appeared many mines and additional industries would be lost.

The International Commission acted in accordance with the Munich agreement, which empowered it to delimit a fifth zone of "preponderantly German" population to be occupied without plebiscite in addition to four zones marked for occupation before Oct. 8.

The fifth zone is to be occupied by Oct. 10.

A government spokesman said the commission—made up of the British, French and Italian ambassadors to Berlin and a Czechoslovak representative, sitting with a German chairman—was allowed some latitude.

Lose All Close Decisions.

In addition to considering nationality and population it was to be guided by economic and geographic considerations.

"But all the close decisions seem to be against us," the spokesman said.

Nevertheless the government announced immediate demobilization of two army classes.

It also ordered progressive return to civilian life of the remainder of the men called to the colors before it was decided to submit to the German terms.

The Czechoslovak internal problem apparently was approaching a solution.

A Slovak congress was said to have decided to organize an autonomous, federated state within the republic to attain equal status with Czechs.

The plan was said to exceed only slightly conditions already offered by the government and it was believed probable that they would be accepted.

Slovakia, it was said, would have its own diet. The plan was said also to propose a Czechoslovak cabinet including only ministers of foreign affairs, national defense, finance and justice with those portfolios equally divided between the Czechs and Slovaks.

In issuing the call for Pittsburgh Nov. 14, Lewis asserted that "reactionary forces are mustering their full strength in their attempt to stop the onward march of labor."

At Houston, Texas, the convention of the A. F. of L. went ahead with plans to continue the fight with the Lewis organization.

1939 BUICKS WILL BE PRESENTED IN CORSICANA FRIDAY

GENERAL PUBLIC CORDIALLY INVITED TO SEE NEW MODEL AUTOMOBILES

Models of the 1939 Buicks will be formally presented to the motoring public of Corsicana Friday in the showrooms of the Beaton Motor company on West Fourth avenue.

Four new lines will be presented on four different wheelbases. All of the exteriors have been drastically redesigned in an extreme streamline effect resulting in a very racy looking car, with greatly augmented vision as a result of enlarged windows. "Cat-walk" cooling has been adopted, and all models are now equipped with steering wheel gear shifting devices.

On the interior numerous changes have been made including more leg room in both front and back seats, greater riding comfort, redesigned trimmings and accessories. The frame has been changed to lower the center of gravity and adds to the stability of the cars.

Another addition to the new Buicks is the direction signal which enables the driver to easily indicate to vehicles behind him in which direction he plans to turn.

The four models are mounted on wheelbases of 120, 126, 133 and 140 inches, and revised suspension has extended the distance between the springs also adding to riding comfort.

A cordial invitation is extended to the general public to inspect the new models by Russell A. Purifoy, president of the distributing agency.

OWNER OF LION THAT KILLED MAN HELD UNDER BOND

WILDWOOD, N. J., Oct. 6.—(AP)—A boardwalk side show operator, whose circus lion escaped, killed a man and terrorized this resort city for nearly three hours before a policeman's bullet killed it, was released under $5,000 bail today on a charge of manslaughter.

Joseph Dobis, 51, the lion's owner, was arraigned before Recorder Leonard Byrne in connection with the death last night of Thomas Saito, 37, of Philadelphia, a Japanese auction room employe whose mangled body was found under the oceanfront boardwalk.

Police said they had not yet learned how the beast, one of two owned by Dobis, had escaped from his cage.

Until five weeks ago the 300 pound killer known as "Tuffy" was one of two lions strapped to a motorcycle side car while the driver roared around a steep-walled bowl called the "Wall of Death." Since then "Tuffy" had been inactive.

Sometime last night in a manner as yet undetermined "Tuffy" escaped from the cage and roamed the nearby broadwalk. Seven weeks ago he broke loose also and at that time was forced back into his cage, but not before scratching his owner.

RAILROADS HARDER HIT IN DISASTERS THAN COMPETITORS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Even when a hurricane strikes a whole section of the country, a railroad president testified today, railroads suffer worse than their competitors.

The executive, Frederick W. Williamson of the New York Central system, was referring specifically to the recent New England storm. He told a presidential board hearing the case for and against a rail wage cut that railroads had to pay for their own storm damage, whereas governments repaired the highways over which trucks and buses run.

Williamson made the point in his argument that the railroads cannot afford to pay present wage scales. The board is seeking a compromise in the deadlock between railway labor and management over a proposed 15 per cent wage reduction.

M. W. Clement, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, told President Roosevelt's fact-finding board that the workers who have voted to strike against the proposed wage cut had failed to "see the picture of the whole."

He warned that railroad employment is "lessening and will continue to lessen, when it should be increasing—unless wage and other questions are approached and disposed of from a commonsense standpoint."

Winter Wheat Is Getting Off Poor Start at Present

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The 1939 winter wheat crop is getting off to a poor start, the weather bureau reported today.

Drought conditions, the bureau said, prevailed in much of the plains and Mississippi valley region, where the bulk of the fall-sown bread grain is produced. Rain was said to be needed for germination of many fields already seeded and for plowing of unplanted areas.

The bureau said early seeded wheat and rye had made good growth in South Dakota and were about ready for grazing, but that late sown grain needed moisture.

Oklahoma and Texas also were said by the bureau to need moisture.

Beauty Diary

of Edna Kent Forbes

STRONG ANKLES.

Miss Fores tells you today how to build strength in your ankles and incidentally, this will also mean to beautify them, too.

Years ago there was an idea that ankles had to be braced or there would be danger of having them ruled, and most people were supposed to have weak ankles. That was before the low shoe was worn, really not much more than a generation ago, somewhere around the time of the war. Perhaps the need for economy in using leather may have influenced it, but whatever did cause it, we have all benefited by it. There never was anything so ugly as those high shoes, on anybody, even on the men, who were the last to get rid of them. Weak ankles pretty much disappeared, when the low cut shoe gave te ankles a chance for freedom of movment, and most persons have ankles as strong as any other part of their bony structure. They really need to be strong since they must support the weight of the body.

E. K. Forbes.

If you do not have such ankles, massage and exercise them. Sit on a chair and stretch out the bare foot, spreading out the toes and drawing them together. Repeat a number of times. Then point the toes downward, then upwards, then to right, and to the left, bending the foot at the ankle. Repeat a number of times also. Clap your hand over your knee and rotate the foot from the ankle, not from the knee. Repeat this too, and do the other ankle as much as this one. If you do these exercises every day for a few weeks, you will find a great improvement. Incidentally, if the ankles are fat, this will reduce them. Dancing, walking on tiptoe, massaging feet and ankles, all strengthen and improve the shape of the ankles.

Mrs. F. V.—You might try brushing the hairs of your brows together so they will form a more slender arch. It is done by brushing all the hairs upward, then start above and very gently bhush all the stray hairs downward, so they lie over the upward hairs; in fact, all above the arch will cover those above, so there is a mass right in the center. Take all of this between thumb and forefinger and pinch it into shape. You will get credit for a lot more hair than you realize this way, while you also manage to get a rather slender arch.

If you have any beauty problems you cannot solve, write for Edna Kent Forbes' three NEW beauty booklets: (1) "Fifteen Minutes a Day for Beauty. (2) "The Finer Points of Beauty." (3) "Eating and Bathing for Beauty." Send ten cents (in stamps) for EACH booklet, to pay for printing and handling and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope (s. a. e. s.). Liverpool closed three to four points net higher. Dry goods markets were quiet. Overnight price of middling spots was 8.47 with spot sales 30,000 bales.

Average Middling Price.

The early orders were evenly divided. The trade bought near months and foreign demand appeared for distant deliveries. Selling was checked by firmness of the stock market but buyers were cautious with prices in the south averaging above the cotton loan basis. Dec. which had moved up from 8.28 to 8.29, fell back to 8.26 shortly after the first half hour, when the list was 1 to 4 points net higher.

ANOTHER RALLY WAS STEMMED BY PROFIT TAKING THURSDAY

EARLY GAINS RUNNING TO MORE THAN THREE POINTS REDUCED OR CANCELLED

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Profit taking stemmed another fast rally in today's stock market and early gains running to more than 3 points were reduced or cancelled at the close.

The Associated Press averages stepped into new high territory since last October at the height of the day's upsurge and were still around the best in about 12 months when the final gong sounded.

The market was further buoyed brokers said, by rising business optimism and indications of more extensive co-operation between industry and government.

Transfers approximated 2,400,000 shares.

Prominent on the forenoon climb were U. S. Rubber, International Harvester; Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, Kennecott, Westinghouse, Allied Chemical, Great Northern, Union Pacific and Loew's.

Narrow to down a point or so at the end were U. S. Steel, General Motors, Monsanto Chemical, Yellow Truck, Montgomery Ward, Goodyear, General Electric, Philip Morris, Santa Fe, Standard Oil of N. J., and Du Pont.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Heavy overnight buying orders gave leading stocks another forward tilt in today's early market proceedings.

With blocks of 1,000 to 4,000 shares changing hands at the start, and the ticker tape behand, gains running to a point or so were posted for U. S. Steel, American Telephone, Montgomery Ward, General Motors, N. Y. Central, Du Pont and Consolidated Edison.

DALADIER IS GIVEN DECREE POWERS OVER FRANCE TO NOV. 15

By TAYLOR HENRY

PARIS, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The senate today voted to grant Premier Edouard Daladier's cabinet powers to govern France by decree until Nov. 15, powers already approved by the Chamber of Deputies.

The senate's vote was 286 to 4. The chamber had voted the decree powers by 331 to 78, with 204 absentations, after a stormy all-night session in which the premier met with much more opposition than in the prevous debate on approval of the four-power pact of Munich.

The chamber approved that accord for dismemberment of Czechoslovakia to save Europe's peace by 535 to 75.

Daladier did not pin the life of his cabinet on the senate vote, since his demand for decree powers was assured of easy acceptance.

When the decree is published in the official journal, probably tomorrow, the Daladier government will have broad, almost undefined powers to rule the nation until Nov. 15.

Such powers were sought to grapple with the economic and financial ills confronting France Daladier came into office last April 10 with simliar powers, but they expired July 31.

PARIS, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Premier Edouard Daladier early today won chamber of deputies consent to rule France by decree until November 15, after a stormy night of political maneuvering during which he was forced to make repeated concessions to avoid overthrow of his government.

The vote was 331 to 78 with 204 deputies refusing to vote, notably different from the 532 to 75 approval with which the chamber yesterday acclaimed Daladier as a savior of peace.

Daladier now has to push his dictatorial powers bill through the senate, which adjourned shortly after midnight. Lengthy wrangling kept the chamber in session until dawn.

Senate approval of the premier's demand for decree powers semd assured when the finance committee of the upper house passed the governmnt bill with only three abstentions, including former Premier Pierre Laval, and no opposing votes.

Only by a strange combination of appeals to patriotism and shrewd political trading did Daladier keep Socialists from casting 157 votes against him.

He was forced to cut the term of the decree powers from Dec. 31 to the accepted Nov. 15, to promise the chamber publicly that he would respect People's Front social reforms, and agree to call parliament into session about Nov. 16, so the cabinet would have no chance of passing next year's budget by decree.

DELADIER DECLARES FRIENDLY RELATIONS WITH ITALY NEAR

MEETING HITLER OPENS WAY FOR CORDIAL FRANCO-GERMAN RELATIONS

PARIS, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The chamber of deputies approved the foreign policy of Premier Daladier tonight by a vote of 535 to 75 after hearing the premier's defense of the four-power Munich accord for the dismemberment of Czechoslovakia.

The chamber gave overwhelming endorsement to the accord which averted a European war and to his plan to seek "new friendships" with Germany and Italy.

A more severe test of Daladier's strength, however, threatened to come later, when the chamber votes on the premier's demand for full decree powers to direct the economic and financial life of the nation until the end of the year.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Premier Daladier let it be known today that France would seek the friendship of Germany and Italy and at the same time continue to increase her armed forces as a sure guarantee of peace.

Reading his declaration on the Czechoslovak crisis to the Chamber of Deputies the premier said France wished to add to her "old and tried friendships" with Britain and Soviet Russia the "support of new or renewed friendships."

Before climbing to the rostrum of the chamber Daladier told deputies in the corridor that the French government soon would be able to send an ambassador to Rome to renew cordial relations with Italy and that his meeting with Chancellor Hitler at Munich had opened an "era of good feeling" between France and her ancient German enemy across the Rhine.

He went before the deputies after receiving from the cabinet unanimous approval for decree powers to "rebuild France's economy and finances"—a plan which was to be submitted to parliament after today's debate on the Munich four-power accord.

Upheld His Action.

In a long address, the premier upheld his action in the Czechoslovak crisis declaring that the report made in London by Viscount Runciman, Britain's unofficial mediator, had made plain it was impossible any longer to ask Sudeten Germans to live within the boundaries of Czechoslovakia.

He paid homage to President Roosevelt's peace messages during the crisis week. The whole chamber cheered when he spoke of "the great, generous and logical voice" of the American chief executive.

The premier finished with a demand that France remain strong, build up her amraments, and to unite behind the government. Germany, she said had known that France was "ready to fight to prevent damage to her vital interests."

Runciman Report.

He gave the Runciman report as the reason why France had joined with Hitler in putting pressure on Prague to give in to Hitler's demands.

In the debate which followed reading of his declaration, Communist Deputy Gabriel Peri declared France had "paid a very heavy tribute to war blackmail" and added that peace was not assured.

"Czechoslovakia has been mutilated," he said. "Because she was a friend of France, and because she believed in the word of France she has been sacrificed."

Louis Marin, veteran lyeader of the extreme right, congratulated the premier on avoiding war but reproached him with allowing deputies and senators to "live in most complete ignorance of our diplomatic activity."

Leon Blum, chief of the powerful socialist party, congratulated France that war had been avoided, but added:

"I feel the sadness of the unhappy Czechoslovak people, who sacrificed their integrity and part of their independence for Europe's tranquility."

While Daladier started reading the declaration to a jammed chamber of deputies, his finance minister, Paul Marchandeau, said in the corridor the government insists parliament vote in full financial and economic decree powers tonight.

Virtual Dictatorship.

He said the powers, which would amount to a virtual temporary dictatorship, would be requested until Dec. 13, and that Daladier would stake the life of his government on the issue.

Paul Marchandeau, finance minister, disclosed the government would insist that parliament vote if the decree powers, which would amount to a virtual temporary dictatorship, tonight, staking its life on the issue. The powers would be requested until Dec. 13, he said.

Speaking of the German people, Premier Daladier said: "With them we hope to be able to establish durable peace."

Before reading his declaration, Daladier declared to close collaborators in the chamber that France had decided to send an ambassador to Rome.

Referring to this in his speech in the chamber he said: "In the interest of peace we wish to add to these old and tried friendships (British and Soviet Russian) the support of renewed or new friendships (referring to Germany and Italy.")

Pays Tribute to Czechs.

Daladier, in the name of the entire government, paid homage to the "courage of the Czechoslovak nation and its leaders."

He declared Czechoslovakia's present trials enable it to "reforge its political unity." He also paid tribute to British collaboration with France "during these difficult weeks."

The ministerial declaration, which also was read in the senate by former Premier Camille Chautemps, said:

"Perhaps, for the first time in the history of the world, everything was undertaken publicly and discussed openly before the peoples.

"If peace has been maintained and preserved it is because we have not had recourse to plots of secret diplomacy. We acted in the light of day, under the control of our peoples, and I insist here that the people, all the people, wish peace."

Visit to London.

Describing his Sept. 18 visit to London with Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet, Daladier told how Prime Minister Chamberlain acquainted them with the findings of Viscount Runciman, unofficial British mediator in the German-Czechoslovak dispute.

"Need I tell you with what emotion we learned that the English observer, in his soil and conscience, concluded it was impossible to make Czechoslovaks and Sudeten Germans live together any longer when all our efforts had consisted in making Czechoslovakia turn toward the federalism which would have assured the integrity of its territory?" he asked.

Declaring it then became necessary to face "realities," Daladier said:

"We found ourselves faced with the following alternatives:

"Either to say no to Sudeten demands and thereby push the Czechoslovak government into an unyielding position and the German government to aggression, thus provoking armed conflict which would result in the rapid destruction of Czechoslovakia, or to try to find a compromise."

Terrible War.

"If the first hypothesis were verified, who could hold that Czechoslovakia's territorial integrity would have been maintained after a terrible war of coalition, even a victorious war.

"We chose peace. The French-British plan of London (for partition of Czechoslovakia) came from this office, but at the same time we submitted this unhappy proposition to Czechoslovakia we carried to her engagements taken by Britain to join us in an international guarantee, for we had persuaded the British government to bring the help of its power and prestige to maintenance of peaceful order in the very heart of Europe."

Daladier said that when he and Bonnet left London Sept. 19, they had a "feeling" that the plan would be received in Prague with "indignant protests" and would be agreed to by nazi Germany.

Then the Czechoslovaks, "in their historic devotion to peace" accepted the plan, the premier continued.

Cabinet Approved Financial Plans

PARIS, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The cabinet today unanimously approved Premier Edouard Daladier's plan for dercee powers to "rebuild France's economy and finances."

The Premier's proposal, which was to be submitted to parliament after today's debate on the Munich four-power accord, was approved after two cabinet meetings, the second meeting with President Albert LeBrun.

The extent and nature of the powers to be demanded were not disclosed in the communique, which also declared the ministers had unanimously approved a declaration defending the Munich agreement which Daladier was to read in the chamber of deputies this afternoon.

The communique said the reason for Daladier's demands was "the exceptional circumstances through which the nation has just passed."

One cabinet member said the premier wanted decree powers to last until December 1.

Daladier came into office April 10 with decree powers which expired July 31. Demand for full powers has been the traditional way for French governments to face financial difficulties.

The critical situation and the possibility of Daladier's demand almost overshodowed the stormy debate which the premier faced in the chamber of deputies on his foreign policy, which gave France peace at the price of German expansion in Central Europe.

The most pressing problem facing the country—as usual — was financial troubles caused by the tremendous expenses of mobilization and the precipitous flight of frightened capital from France.

The cost of mobilization and the hasty re-stocking of war supplies has been estimated at ten to fifteen billion francs (about ($269,700,000 to $404,50,000).

That drain, which more than exhausted the government's legal borrowing limits from the Bank of France, was reflected in the fall of the franc yesterday to 178.98 to the British pound.

At the time of the last devaluation, the premier assured the country the currency would not be allowed to drop below 179.00.

The finance ministry, apparently seeking to reassure the country regarding the nature of the government's plans, announced the "government will neither adjust exchange control nor take any measure of monetary manipulation."

FIFTEEN VACANCIES NOW EXIST ON FEDERAL BENCH, INCLUDING SUPREME TO DISTRICT COURTS

WASHINGTON, Oct 4—(AP)—There are 15 vacancies on the Federal bench, ranging from the supreme court to district courts.

President Roosevelt has authority to fill them at any time, but informed persons said today his nominations probably would be delayed until after the November election, and probably until congress meets in January.

The vacancies include four places on circuit courts of appeal and 10 district judgeships in addition to the highest court vacancy resulting from the death last July of Associate Justice Benjamin Cardozo.

The lower court places resulted from an omnibus judgeship act approved by the last congress as part of the administration's program to expedite federal court cases by providing additional judges.

Justice department officials said prompt appointments would aid this purpose, but added that few judges would care to act until the senate had confirmed Presidential appointments.

Although the President appoints the federal judiciary, subject to senate confirmation, recommendations nearly always come from the attorney general after investigations by justice department agents and consultation with senators from the states involved.

The omnibus act created a score of new judgeships. Six appointments have been made, but noly one has been confirmed by the senate.

President Roosevelt selected Governor James V. Allred of Texas for the federal bench there, Edgar A. Conger for the Southern district of New York, Francis J. W. Ford of Massachusetts, Leon McCord for the fifth federal circuit court, and Floyd H. Roberts for the Western District of virginia.

Wants Severe Law For Curbing Drunken Drivers

DALLAS, Oct. 5.—(AP)—C. J. Rutland of Dallas, chairman of the Texas Safety Traffic commission, today urged enactment of a law with teeth in it to curb drunken driving.

He told a luncheon group it was becoming increasingly difficultt to obtain convictions for drunken driving because juries were too lenient and because political influence often intervened.

Rutland likewise suggested a new Texas traffic code, more adequate drivers' license laws and a motor vehicle inspection enabling act.

FOUR SENTENCED DIE IN CHAIR IN GROCER'S MURDER

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Oct. 6.—(AP)—The state of Arkansas wrote four death sentences into the records today as an answer to its demands in the robbery killing last month of Eldon Cooley, grocery chain official.

Condemned to the electric chair were Joseph G. Anderson, 37, former Indiana convict; his 33-year-old wife, Lucille, believed to be the first woman ever given the extreme penalty in Arkansas; Alfred (Pug) Dickson, 35, butcher, and Clarence (Bill) Johnson, 23.

Mattress Factory Destroyed By Fire

Fire apparently originating from matches in a mattress being renovated, razed the Corsicana Mattress factory at 1021 North Beaton street about 1:30 Thursday afternoon. Loss was estimated at $1500.

A. M. Lane, owner of the mattress factory, and also of a small grist and feed mill in the same building, said the flames spread through the structure and ignited some 1500 pounds of additional loose cotton. Nothing was saved from the building, which was owned by L. T. Davis.

Firemen had to battle the blaze about an hour and a half before it was extinguished.

BRITAIN SEEKING ACCORD WITH ITALY IN ROME STATEMENT

ROME, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Diplomatic sources said today Great Britain had submitted proposals for an accord with Italy in the fourth successive daily call by Lord Perth British ambassador on Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano.

Details of the plan to make effective immediatelv a settlement on Ango-Italian differences were not ascertained.

Since the Anglo-Italian Easter agreement was made conditional upon the withdrawal of Italian forces from Spain, it was believed the British government might have proposed to Italy to withdraw at least some of the infantrymen fighting for insurgent Generalissimo Franco.

Premier Mussolini was expected to lay the British plan before the fascist grand council when it meets tonight.

Some political circles thought the council might meet several days and the announcement of the decision on an Anglo-Italian agreement might follow.

Rumors have circulated for several days that Italy was preparer to withdraw from the Spanish civil war some infantrymen without reducing aviation, artillery and other specialized forces there.

Recognition of Italy's Ethiopian conquest, in line with the projected French recognition of the Ethiopian empire, was expected in diplomatic circles to be part of the plan.

EXPECT DEMOCRATS TO MAKE FIGHT IN MIDWEST FARM BELT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Informed persons forecast today that the democrats would make an extraordinarily intensive fight this fall to retain their political strength in the midwest farm belt.

This was the significance read into James A. Farley's cautious press conference statement yesterday that the democrats traditionally have been stronger in industrial states because of their labor policies.

Thus the democratic national chairman replied to a question as to whether the democrats were losing ground in the farm states.

It was believed that, as a result of the conditions his statement implied, there would be a determined democratic effort to hold all congressional and gubernatorial offices which the party now controls in the section.

Both in the farm sections and elsewhere over the country democratic nominees received assurance from Farley that they would hafe full organization support this fall.

He left no hope of democratic aid, however, for "liberal" members of other parties who may have expected a democratic boost to lift them into office.

Glaring Headlights Cause of Accidents

AUSTIN, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Drivers who failed to dim headlights for approaching vehicles were envolved in accidents which caused 73 deaths and 183 serious injuries in the first eight months of the year.

This was a prelude to a statement by Homer Garrison, Jr., state police chief, that light blindness is one of the principal factors in fatal and serious highway smashups.

"Dimming lights is a mere courtesy that would save many lives," he added.

Pick-a-Back Plane Seeks World Record

DUNDEE, Scotland, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The Mercury, British pick-a-back seaplane which crossed the Atlantic on an experimental flight two months ago, took off today from the Maia, its flying partner, in an attempt to set a new world long-distance record.

The mercury headed for Capetown, South Africa, seeking to break the non-stop record of 6,296 miles made July 13-15, 1937, by Mikhail Gromoff and two other Soviet Russian aviators, between Moscow and California by way of the North Pole.

The distance between Dundee and Capetown is 6,370 miles.

Increased Bank Clearings Noted

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Bank clearings at 22 leading cities in the United States in the week ended October 5 totaled $5,823,969,000 a rise of 28.5 per cent over the $4,606,664,000 in the preceding week, Dun and Bradstreet reported today.

The sharp rise, the credit agency said, was aided by "heavy banking transactions usually incident to the first-of-the-month period."

The October 5 week's aggregate, however, was 3.3 per cent under the $6,124,722,000 for the like 1937 week.

HILLSBORO WILL INVADE TIGERLAND FRIDAY EVENING

ODD FELLOWS MEET ENNIS LIONS IN IMPORTANT DISTRICT BATTLE

Corsicana and Hillsboro football teams went through their final signal and pass drills Thursday afternoon as they prepare for their headliner attraction at Tiger field Friday evening.

Coaches Johnny Pierce of Corsicana and Holly McLemore of Hillsboro have been training their charges with tough scrimmages this week. No casualties have been reported in either camp and it is expected the full strength of both these bitter and ancient rivals will be hurled into the fracas Friday evening.

Corsicana will be seeking her second straight District 11-A victory and incidentally the fourth straight win of the season. The Bengals are one of the seventeen untied and undefeated clubs of the 108 class A aggregations in the University of Texas Interscholastic league. Corsicana remembers several seasons ago when a Hillsboro club socked the local crew in a startling upset and the Bengals do not intend for such an occurrence to be chalked up again.

Hillsboro Ready.

Hillsboro, on the other hand, boasting a fine offense, plans to "shoot the works" at the Bengals. A number of reasons are advanced for the Hill county club being at tip-top shape and in the right mental attitude to fight the Tigers to the final gun. Corsicana and Hillsboro have played in the same district for many years; they are the capitals of adjoining counties. Hillsboro dropped a 19-7 decision at the hands of that fine hard-hitting Ennis Lion class B aggregation at Ennis last Frida night. The loss to Ennis goads the Hill countians and nothing could be better for Coach McLemore this week than that defeat to drive his boys through his instructions.

With the completion of Highway 22 pavement recently between Hillsboro and Corsicana, a large crowd of Hill countians is expected on this occasion.

Odd Fellows Vs. Ennis

I. O. O. F. Home Lynx, local B club, will meet the Ennis Lions at Ennis Friday evening in an important district tussle. The Odd Fellows were idle last week and should be in the pink of condition for the Ellis county invasion, while Ennis likely is feeling the effects of their Hillsboro engagement. The game was originally scheduled for Corsicana, but was transferred recently to Ennis after an attractive financial offer was made to the management of the Odd Fellows. The State Home Lads, the other local club, will be idle this week.

Wacoans Here.

Reports from Waco are to the effect that many McLennan county football enthusiasts will come to Corsicana Friday night for the Eagle-Tiger scrap as Waco Tigers meet Hillsboro and Corsicana, respectively, the following weekends.

A feature attraction will be unreeled on Forrest Field, Bryan, Friday afternoon between the Bryan Broncs and the Temple Wildcats. Both clubs are crippled but Bryan is in better shape for the Wildcats than they were for Corsicana a couple of weeks ago. This will be Temple's first conference battle. One of the Goad Twins, regular guard for Temple, will be out with injuries sustained in the Corpus Christi game last week.

Waco entertains the lowly Waxahachie Indians at Waco Friday night in Waco's first conference tussle. The big Wacoans are not expected to have much trouble in rolling up a big lead.

Cleburne Yellow Jackets, somewhat a mystery in the race, will clash with Wichita Falls at Wichita Falls. The Westerners are slight favorites. Cleburne opened the conference race last week with a 37-0 win over the Waxahachie crew.

Revival Opens At Dawson on Friday

OPENING DAY FAIR ATTRACTED CROWDS FROM EVERY SECTION

SELLOUT INDICATED FIRST PERFORMANCE RODEO WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Corsicana's first permanent fair plant in several years was well received Wednesday, the opening day of the first season in the new quarters of the Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show. By 2 o'clock in the afternoon, traffic was slowed to a snail's pace from the city limits to the entrance to the grounds, and dozens of cars were parked outside the grounds, and hundreds inside.

The midway was working at top speed, and both exhibit buildings were jammed with people taking their first look at the extensive displays presented in all of the various departments. Judging in the Hereford classes was completed during the morning hours, and it was unanimously agreed that all classes represented some of the strongest competition to be encountered in the entire southwest.

Grounds Crowded.

Fair officials announced that beginning Thursday, general admission rodeo tickets would be available at the fair grounds during the afternoon as well as at the downtown office in order to accommodate fair patrons.

Easily 5,000 people were on the fair grounds by 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and the number was growing steadily. Few people were leaving and more were arriving every minute.

Officials indicated that a sell-out crowd was easily anticipated for the first session of the Texas Championship rodeo, and for several hours following the parade the downtown ticket office in the Chamber of Commerce office was swamped with purchasers, some even buying for later dates in the week.
